

THAW MAKES DENIAL KIDNAPPING RUMORS

FUGITIVE DECLARES IN STATE-MENT HE IS SATISFIED TO AWAIT THE OUTCOME.

KEEP VIGILANT WATCH

Fifteen Special Deputies Sworn in at Thaw's Request Will Prevent Strong Arm Work.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 12.—After another night's speckled with rumors of kidnapping, Harry K. Thaw awoke today to gaze upon rain soaked streets and to confer with counsel regarding the hearing with Governor Felker at Concord, in opposition to his extradition to the state of New York. This hearing according to the understanding of the Thaw lawyers, will be held on Tuesday at 10 o'clock in the morning, and will be held in the capitol building without further court proceedings here.

Annoyed at the constant and recurring reports that attempts were being made to spirit him away, the fugitive issued the following statement before he breakfasted this morning:

"Some of the reports have been spreading rumors which are unfounded and directly contrary to the facts. We are told that this was calculated to act against the opinion of the people on my behalf.

"The fact is that I am very well contented where I am and we are glad to be in Colebrook and I like the way people here stand up against the efforts of outsiders to rush things. Also I am very glad of the information obtained from local counsel and by Attorney Mr. Moses H. Grossman of New York that Governor Felker may afford a full hearing.

"We received a warning on Wednesday that certain persons had been waiting for me in New Hampshire. Everyone in Colebrook knows that what we did as a precaution was to accept the offer of ten citizens of Colebrook, to meet any unlawful efforts that might have been made.

"Everyone on our side was of the side of the law and our only effort was to defeat any attempt at kidnapping or any other illegal trick, such as that which was the hearing of responsible people here.

"Fifteen special local police have been sworn in to our great satisfaction. They are on duty and there will not be any strong arm work.

"It might be said in passing that regardless of expense the special trains on which the deputies of Attorney General Carmody of New York were being brought into New Hampshire. Everyone in Colebrook knows that what we did as a precaution was to accept the offer of ten citizens of Colebrook, to meet any unlawful efforts that might have been made.

"Neither side trusting the other and Thaw's special guards trusting neither side all hands kept watch at the hotel where Thaw is housed until well after midnight.

"At 2 a. m. an over-voiced reporter came to the prison and announced that a strange man and automobile about the building meant no good, ran down the silent hallways shouting at the top of his lungs. The entire hotel was awake in an instant. Sheriff Eric who had retired into the hall in his night shirt and twenty reporters half dressed and disheveled dashed down to the lobby to telephone for automobiles. Women guests peeked from their doors at the verge of hysterics and the Thaw guards worried, but ignorant of what was the matter, massed themselves in front of his door.

"Thaw's Soundly. Thaw himself did not wake up. William Travers Jerome also slept soundly though Franklin Kennedy deputy attorney general from New York appeared for a few moments until satisfied that Thaw was safe.

"Mr. Jerome received a telegram shortly before ten o'clock announcing the arrival of Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess County at Concord, with the Thaw's attorneys. Mr. Jerome immediately tried to get telephone communication with him.

"Report at Montreal. Montreal, Que., Sept. 12.—Immigration officials heard today that Harry K. Thaw had been purchased by him through ticket from Colebrook, N. H. to England by way of Montreal. This ticket was to be used, they heard, in case Thaw should be released by habeas corpus proceedings, or otherwise at Colebrook. According to the reports Thaw was convinced that the immigration officials could not touch him were he to pass through the dominion on the case of Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist. This report gave color to the rumors of kidnapping Thaw at Colebrook already strengthened in the officials' opinion by the presence there of a group of Thaw's Coalbrook partisans and by the heavy guard placed around the prisoner.

"Thaw's ticket to England was purchased while an attorney was in the city. Thaw had been arrested at Colebrook. Embroiled in the report was the assertion that Thaw once at Montreal would not sail for England at all but would proceed to that point of departure where he was to be released. Thaw's lawyer, the northwestern corner of Pennsylvania and enter his native state he believed he would be safe.

"Writ Granted. Concord, N. H., Sept. 12.—In the United States district court in this city this afternoon Judge Edgar A. Rich granted the petition of counsel for Harry K. Thaw for a writ of habeas corpus returnable at Littleton on Tuesday next, at 11 a. m.

"Nathaniel E. Martin of this city and Merrill Shurtliff of Lancaster appeared as counsel for Thaw. The writ of New York was not represented at the hearing.

"Proceedings were in chambers only the judge, counsel and clerk of the court being admitted. Judge A. Rich stated that he was not prepared to straining all parties with interfering with the service of the writ or with Thaw pending the hearing of Littleton.

"Jones of the writ and injunction will be served on Sheriff Drew of Coos county, William T. Jerome and Attorney James P. Tuttle.

"The effect of this proceeding is to bring the situation to a standstill until next Tuesday.

TO TEACH OPERATION OF GENERAL STORES

Novel Course May Be Added to Curriculum of Kansas State Agricultural College.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Topeka, Kansas, Sept. 12.—A course in the management of a country store is to be inaugurated in one of the state educational institutions probably the Kansas state agricultural college at Manhattan. According to an announcement today from the board of administration of state educational institutions. There are numerous business and commercial colleges the announcement says that teach bookkeeping, advertising, and other ordinary business courses, but in none of these there is a course adequate to cover the peculiar conditions in a country "general store." Among the subjects proposed for the new course are:

Writing advertising for country weeklies to sell goods instead of simply announcing that a certain merchant is in business "at the old stand."

Decorating store windows with other objects than "fay speckled premium china" and last year's Christmas and Fourth of July goods.

Attractive interior display of goods. Handling customers. Pushing certain lines of goods. Points on buying.

BODY MAYOR GAYNOR PLACED ON STEAMER

Removed This Morning From Liverpool Town Hall Where It Was Accorded Unprecedented Honors.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Liverpool, Eng., Sept. 12.—The body of the late Mayor Gaynor of New York, which was brought to Liverpool from the Liverpool town hall, where it had been accorded unprecedented honors by Great Britain and taken to the Cunard line steamer Lusitania, was placed in the forward part of the ship, the Lusitania is due to arrive at New York on Friday September 13.

A special guard of six policemen watched over the body in the town hall throughout the night. The case rested on a great catafalque which was brought from West Minister Abbey.

Early this morning the body was re-embalmed.

A death mask of the features of the mayor also were taken this morning in accordance with instructions received from Mrs. Gaynor. The Liverpool clergy have been waiting for the body for some time. Liverpool persuaded Rufus Gaynor to consent to the holding of a religious service at 7 o'clock this morning.

In the dim light of candles and in the great fog which enshrouded the railway the Reverend Theodore, the forward vicar of St. Matthew's conducted an impressive church of Eng and funeral ritual over the remains of the dead mayor.

BELOIT CONFERENCE HAS BUSY SESSIONS

Several Important Business Meetings Held Today—Bishop Quale Gives Addresses—Inspect College.

Beloit, Wis., Sept. 12.—Today's session of the Beloit conference was given over aside from the business meeting to the American Bible society and to Sunday school work. The laymen's conference was also in session today holding a business meeting at ten o'clock this morning and listening to an address by Bishop Quale this afternoon.

Bishop Quale delivered another eloquent address this morning to the American Bible society. In the afternoon, the work of the society was presented by Rev. S. H. Attridge of Chicago.

Conference visitors were then taken on a tour of inspection of Beloit college. The college is not yet in session, but the campus and buildings were shown the visitors.

This evening will occur the Sunday school banquet with Rev. S. H. Attridge as toastmaster. The speakers will be Rev. Louis O. Hartman of Chicago and Rev. E. H. Brigham. Following the banquet Mr. Hartman will address the full conference on Sunday school work.

Tomorrow, virtually the last day of the conference although there will be a business session Monday, will be the day of the morning followed by the conference session by Bishop Quale; in the afternoon the ordination of deacons and elders and the anniversary of the Freedman's Aid society with the address by Rev. E. J. Hartman of Chicago.

Protests against the signing of the American Bible society by Mr. Brewer Vopicka of Chicago, to minister to Bulgaria, and expressions of disappointment that women's suffrage was defeated in Wisconsin last year were voiced in the conference this afternoon. The protest was contained in a report of the committee on temperance given by Rev. Enock Perry of the Milwaukee City mission and was adopted by the conference.

This afternoon there is being conducted before a select committee a trial of Rev. N. A. Henry of the Apolonia district whose case has been before the conference for some time. Mr. Henry is not charged with any misconduct, but is said to be unable to master the studies prescribed by the conference and is called inefficient.

Mr. Henry would soon be a supernumerary charge on the conference unless he retired. He thought action might no longer be to be deferred, hence the trial was ordered immediately.

ARREST TWO NEENAH MEN TO ANSWER MANY CHARGES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Neenah, Sept. 12.—Joseph Hart and Thomas Kennedy of Neenah have both been under arrest on a charge of robbery committed in that place. It is believed that they know something about the many lawless acts that have been committed in that city the past few years. Kennedy confessed he knew something about the robbery they are supposed to have perpetrated.

IMPORTANT CAMPAIGN IN KEYSTONE STATE COMES TO A CLOSE

State Wide Campaign Will Be Held in Pennsylvania Next Tuesday to Nominate Many Officials.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12.—What is considered to be in many respects the most important political campaign waged in Pennsylvania virtually ended today. Next Tuesday a state wide primary will be held for the nomination of candidates for two superior court judges, for municipal officials of all the leading cities and officials of the 67 counties of the state.

Neither the governorship nor any other of the high offices of the state are involved in the contest. Nevertheless, the primary of next Tuesday and the regular election to follow in November threaten a revolutionary realignment of the political forces and the changing of the political map of Pennsylvania.

The primary will be operated under radical new laws designed to make it possible for the electorate to select efficient, progressive and unbiased candidates for public office. The new election laws, coupled with advanced ideas in municipal government which are to come into effect at the same time, are believed to sound the death knell of machine government.

The last legislature provided for radical changes in the system of government in third class cities, abolishing the mayor and council and establishing a pure commission form of government. In the primaries next Tuesday a mayor and four commissioners will be nominated to govern the 23 third class cities of the state. Non-partisan elections will be held in all the cities of Pennsylvania, except Philadelphia.

The fight in Philadelphia centers about the election of councilmen. County officials and judges of the court judges. The municipal court is a new tribunal to try minor civil and criminal cases. The nine judges are chosen without regard to party affiliation.

The idea that machine government must be destroyed and that the new primary and election laws give opportunity to bring about such destruction is the main theme of the campaign. In Philadelphia and in all the other important communities, the Washington party forces and the democratic party are united to overthrow the so-called Republican machine.

Added importance is given to the primaries and election this year, as they are regarded as merely preparatory to the election of United States senator and governor next year. The reform element believes that a victory of the machine forces this year, specially in the Republican stronghold of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, would make almost hopeless any successful fight next year by Senator Taft, to re-election, and would go far toward breaking the control of the Republican organization of the state government.

In Pittsburgh there is no fusion and a triangular contest is being waged. Mayor Magee and William Flinn, the Washington party leader, are joined in the support of Congressman Stephen G. Porter for mayor, while the Republican faction that follows the leadership of Senator Oliver is supporting the candidacy of Joseph Armstrong, former director of public works. The Democrats have a candidate in the field and the outcome of the primary, the hottest that Pittsburgh has known in years, is filled with uncertainty.

Among the cities which will nominate candidates for commission of next Tuesday and elect them in November are Erie, Reading, Wilkes-Barre, Harrisburg, Johnstown, Allentown, Lehigh, York, New Castle, Williamsport, Easton, Hazleton, Oil City, Bradford, Franklin, Lebanon, Pittston, Monaca and Pottsville.

All of these cities are to adopt the commission form of government in December. This new system carries with it the direct legislation principles of the initiative and referendum. The councilmanic system will be abolished and its place will be a commission composed of the mayor and four commissioners.

The new law provides for non-partisan elections in all the cities of the state, except Philadelphia. Such elections, taking out of partisan politics municipal officers in practically all of the cities and judicial elections in every community, are expected to go far towards destroying the old party machines.

TWENTY MEN BURNED IN MILL EXPLOSION

Six in Serious Condition as Result of Buffalo Accident—Fire Follows Explosion.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Twenty men were burned, six seriously, in a serious explosion that shattered the walls of the Cloyer Leaf Milling Company's plant here early today. Five followed explosions and the elevator, flour mill and storage house were destroyed with a loss of $200,000. The explosion in many respects resembled the death explosion in the Hudson Mill last June when a large number of workmen were killed.

DEMANDS OF JAPAN ACCEPTED BY CHINA

Were Presented to Government in Connection With Killing of Japanese Subjects in Riots.

Peking, China, Sept. 12.—Japan's demands presented to China two days ago in connection with the killing of Japanese subjects and the trampling of the Japanese flag by Chinese, were accepted in their entirety by the Peking government.

SEEK YOUNG SURGEON LOVED BY MISS DAY

Believed That He May Have Knowledge as to How Young New York Woman Came to Her Death.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, Sept. 12.—The young married surgeon whom Annette Day loved was sought diligently by detectives today to tell what he might know of Miss Day's last hours. Her brother Francis a real estate dealer of this city declared last night that she was the slain woman whose body was dissected and thrown into the Hudson within the past two weeks. He identified a portion of the body the head, arms, and one leg were still missing—as that of his sister, by an odd shaped discoloration on her back, which he said was a birth mark.

Annette Day according to the brother's story was 23 years old, of dark hair and complexion and one of five children. Her mother lives at Tarrytown and last saw Annette on August 16, when the girl, facing motherhood, left home. Since then none of the family had heard from her. They still hold her in silence for the white, believing she had got another place at her trade as machine operator on underwear, but after a fortnight had passed without a word from her the brother became alarmed and began to search for her.

The search at first casual, became general, young Day said, after finding the body of the river murder victim. The police were not notified because the brother felt that the girl might still be alive and he did not want to make her disgrace public.

Detectives were told this morning that the surgeon had disappeared recently from his home in Brooklyn. He was a young man, about 25 years old, with a dark complexion, and he told his friends, according to the police, that he had been threatened by the black hand. They thought this strange, the police say, as his practice was not large and he was not a moneyed man.

The body of the murdered girl, three portions of which have been found, was skillfully dissected, according to the declaration of the county physician, Dr. Joseph C. Croft, N. Y., whose territory the torso was found, by a man who was practiced in surgery.

Here's a Real Example

In the city of Providence, Rhode Island, is a store that does a better business in the world.

Take the ratio of its sales to the population of the city and its volume is almost unbelievable.

This business has been built up on Nationally Advertised brands of clothing—largely through daily newspaper advertising.

The merchant saw the advantage of cooperation. While the manufacturers made known the merits of their brands, the merchant used his home newspapers to emphasize the fact that he "kept them."

A dozen other instances of this same kind could be cited. Mr. Manufacturer, dealers are anxious to cooperate with you. They will help you if you help them to create a demand by advertising in the mediums they use—the newspapers.

The Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York, will be glad to give you data in regard to a cooperative newspaper campaign.

VATICAN TO REFORM TINY HISTORIC ARMY UNDER ITS CONTROL

Armed Forces of Holy See Consist of Less Than Three Hundred Men, Comprising Five Corps.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Rome, Sept. 12.—In consequence of a series of incidents, the most recent of which was the mutiny of the Swiss Guards, the Vatican authorities are today taking steps to reform the tiny but historic army under their control. Although consisting of less than 300 men, the armed forces of the Holy See comprise five different corps. They are the Noble Guards, Swiss Guards, Palatine Guards, Gens d'Armes and Firemen, or as they are called, "Guards of the Fire."

The most important of these is the Noble Guards. Constituted as it is today, this organization dates back to a little over one hundred years. The predecessors of the Noble Guards, however, first came into existence in 1484, having been organized as a papal guard in the time of Innocent VIII. They were, however, disbanded in 1798 when Napoleon carried off to France, whence he never returned. In 1801 an agitation was started in Rome among the aristocracy again to form a bodyguard for the Pontiff, and an address was sent to Pius VII, offering them services.

To this Pius replied by message from his Secretary of State, dated May 11, 1801, which may be called their act of foundation, and which provided that the corps consist of sixty individuals, men and officers, and that they be reduced to about fifty and the command, which was hereditary in the Barberini and Altieri families, had lately passed to the Rospiolosi, the present commander being Prince Camillo. The American ambassador of this family are notable, Prince Camillo having two sons, both of whom married American girls.

The other one was Miss Ethel Julia Benson, a New York girl, while the other made Miss Mildred Haseltine his wife.

The Rospiolosi are very proud of having had the Commandership of the Noble Guard conferred upon them, as thereby they have secured the five other Houses which hold hereditary positions at the Papal Court. These are the two Princes-Assistants of the Holy Throne, namely the head of the Orsini and Colonna families, the two Princes of the Middle Ages, the Master of the Sacred Hospice, who is the head of the Rospiolosi family; the Standard Bearer of the Holy Church, the head of the Patrizi-Montori; and the Marshal of the Conclave, the head of the Chigi.

To that warrior-Pope of the Della Rovere House, Julius II, who "threw the keys of St. Peter into the Tiber" saying that he had no need of the sword of St. Paul, who built the castle of Ostia and fortified the Monastery of Grottaferrata, and who was hoisted up in a basket to inspect the siege of the Colonna, the formation of the famous Corps of the Swiss Guard was due.

The bellicose Pontiff in October 1505, enlisted two thousand men, who were officially described as "Praetorian Guard of the Holy See" and "Swiss Guard of the Holy See." The Swiss Guard was destroyed almost a man in the famous sack of Rome by the Constable of Bourbon in 1527. It was reorganized in 1548 and since then has never ceased to exist, with the two notable but temporary exceptions of the French occupations of 1798 and 1809. The Swiss Guard now number only about seventy, and are recruited equally from the Catholic German and French cantons of Switzerland.

The Swiss Guard is composed of members of the upper middle class, but it is now recruited from among shopkeepers and small tradesmen, belonging to Catholic clubs and societies in Rome.

It is not quartered inside the Vatican, but receives an indemnity for expenses and uniforms and is only called upon for great functions or important occasions, such as a canonization in St. Peter's, or the visit of a foreign ruler to the Pontiff. Its commander holds the rank of General, and until lately this position was held by Count Camillo Pecci, nephew of Pope Leo XIII.

The Papal Gendarmes owe their origin to the time when Pius VII was in exile after having been kidnapped and taken to France by a General Bonaparte. Forcibly to submit to the will of Napoleon, he had as guards, the French Grenadiers, who, however, he admired greatly. When Pius VII returned to Rome he constituted a bodyguard of his own, which he called the "Papal Carabiniers" wearing the same uniform as Napoleon's soldiers, and being composed of men who had served under the Emperor Napoleon. This body took a great interest in this body, but did not give the name given to it and he induced the Pontiff to change it into that of Gendarmes.

Nowadays, the Gendarmes are recruited almost entirely from among retired Carabiniers of the Italian army and their commander, Count Ceccopieri, was formerly a police officer of the Italian government. They number rather less than one hundred and they do almost the entire police work inside the Sacred Palaces.

Finally, there is the body of Firemen, composed of about thirty men well trained and prompt with tools, on several occasions have not despised the assistance of their fellow firemen of the King of Italy.

OWNING WATERWORKS PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Shboyan Officials File Report With Commission Showing Large Operating Revenue.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Sept. 12.—Municipal ownership of the Shboyan waterworks plant has been successful, judging from a report filed with the state railroad commission. It shows a net operating revenue of $55,149. So prosperous has the system proven that the commission hints at the possibility of a lowering of rates.

The commission strongly commends the use of meters for measuring service and claims a major rate for Shboyan which it believes will be more equitable than the present flat and meter rates.

The commission is checking up the revenues of all water works plants in the state.

TOMBSTONE IS USED TO SUPPORT SPEECH SAYS HE COLLECTED FIFTY THOUSAND NOT RECORDED BY SULZER

Representative Smith of Minnesota Takes Original Means of Illustrating His Argument.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Sept. 12.—A wooden tombstone seven feet tall and four feet square was dragged in on the floor of the house today to illustrate an argument by Representative Smith of Minnesota that the administration today that Charles Dersch, a salesman allied with the brewery interests had testified privately that he had collected nearly $50,000 for Sulzer's campaign which was not accounted for by Sulzer in his statement of account.

The announcement was made by assemblyman Orrin J. Levy, chairman of the board of managers when the board met to continue its investigations today for the purpose of gathering evidence for the prosecution at the impeachment trial. Mr. Dersch was one of the witnesses called yesterday and at his request was allowed to give his testimony in private.

The $50,000 Mr. Levy said, had been collected from the brewery and malt interests. "This is the most sensational evidence we have got yet," said Mr. Levy. He declined to give details of Dersch's testimony which will be laid before the impeachment trial.

Justice Chester of the state supreme court today denied an application for a writ brought in a taxpayer's action designed to prohibit the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer.

As his personal opinion, Mr. Levy said he did not believe Gov. Sulzer would ever stand for trial. He declined to give the name of the New York lawyer who had asked him the above question. He added, however, "this man, a former office-holder, called to see me this morning. In his opinion Gov. Sulzer will never come to trial. He asked me if I would consider recommending a man like Alton B. Parker to go to Sulzer and take proofs of the charges against him and that we have advised him to resign and save himself from the indignity and humiliation of a trial. I said of course I could not do that."

Mr. Levy was asked if he did not think Gov. Sulzer already knew what these proofs were. "No, he does not," was the reply.

WOMEN FIGURE MUCH IN CALUMET RIOTS

More Arrests Today as Result of Disorders in Which Women Sympathizers Are Prominent.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 12.—More arrests marked today's demonstration by copper miners, thugs and their women sympathizers. Several hundred paraded and some of the more obstreperous failed to heed orders of mounted militia men to keep certain streets clear. Wild cheering by the militia men and extra rushes by the crowd gave the affair a riotous aspect but no serious disorders occurred.

START RELIEF WORK FOR HOOPER PEOPLE

One Hundred or More Residents of Michigan Village Homeless as Result of Fire.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 12.—Relief work was being arranged throughout this section today for the benefit of one hundred or more residents of the village of Hooper, who are homeless north of here, who lost their homes last night when the little lumber town was swept by fire. It is said that only one house escaped the flames and that the rest were spared from a passing railroad engine. No loss of life has been reported. Fire interrupted telegraph and telephone communication with the burning village and last night was evanescent, as reported the Cooper, a neighboring village, had been burned.

Diplomats Regard China's Announcement With Favor—Resumption of Interrupted Plans.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Sept. 12.—The eastern diplomats here regard the announcement of China's purpose to employ a German army officer for high rank and two hundred subordinate officers as a step toward the resumption of plans interrupted by the revolution against Yuan Shih Kai. Their express view is that instead of their being any objection by the powers to such a military development it will be encouraged in every way as a potent means of guaranteeing the integrity of the Chinese republic.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT DETAINED FOR TRIAL

Dr. E. A. Hanley, President of Franklin College, Indiana, Accused of Abusing Father.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 12.—Witnesses are being summoned today by the state county grand jury which is investigating an attack made by Dr. E. A. Hanley, president of Franklin College, Indiana, upon his father, Calvin Hanley, at the latter's home at Middletown in the southern part of this county last Thursday. Dr. Hanley is one of the leading educators of Indiana and a former Baptist minister. At one time he was pastor of the John D. Rockefeller church in Cleveland, Ohio. It is understood the son switched and spanked his father because of alleged bad treatment of his mother and sister-in-law.

Goitre Disappears After Chiropractic Adjustments

I've had several cases of Goitre some of which were in very advanced stages. After the first Chiropractic adjustment the Goitre would start to soften and after successive adjustments would gradually grow smaller and finally disappear. Goitre is caused by a lack of nerve force to the thyroid gland, causing a thickening of the thyroid tissue, due to a pressure on the spinal nerve by a dislocated vertebrae. When this pressure is removed the nourishment goes where it is intended and Nature restores the gland to normal.

(By Ellis B. Usher.)

Milwaukee Sept. 13.—The week has been devoted, locally, to the state fair and state politics. Both have drawn considerable crowds, but the fair, as nearly as I can learn, was the larger success. It is not as easy to define politics as those who have no necessity can realize. Just at present such politics as we have in Wisconsin seem to concern themselves with the contest between the McGovern and the La Follette factions. The Governor wants to succeed Senator Stephenson, and Senator La Follette will prevent him if he is able. The understanding among the La Follette men is that the Governor "Tom" Morris is to be the La Follette candidate, but the McGovern men don't believe a word of it. They think that Aylward is the man that the senior Senator will back. Meanwhile it is noticeable that this is the first state fair time in many years, when "Uncle Isaac's" yacht was not moored at the dock here, with a party headed by the Senator "doing the whole show." I notice that the discussion of political conditions elsewhere indicates about the same conditions we see at home, a diminishing vote as the number of elections increase, and minority spreads. It is not unlikely, I think that a large part of the apparent indifference is dissatisfaction. There are a great many people who do not vote because they are offered no choice that interests them, much less suits them. It may be that the Progressives, of both parties, are deceiving themselves, and mistaking a dissatisfied electorate for an indifferent one. Either there is something in that or we are approaching the millennium and everybody is happy.

The State Assessment.

The appearance of the state assessment, during the past week, seemed to attract renewed attention to the size of state expenses. The assessment itself is worthy of a little discriminating attention. Personal property is assessed at $34,092,999; real estate, $2,464,094,706; total being $2,938,187,794. The state assessment was $1,812,541,000. So the increase in ten years is $1,155,346,794, or more than 11 millions a year.

But the most interesting thing about this great growth in the assessment is that after all the trumpeting, the increase upon real estate is over 45 per cent while the increase in personal property is only about 22 per cent. This fact, however, is not an assertion that the tendency of our taxation is toward the single tax on land. I do not forget the corporation taxes and the inheritance and income taxes that are reducing personal property assessments. It is not the increase of the income and property upon which such assessments are levied is from the land.

Land is visible property and it is being found, and always will be, and the farmer who thinks he is going to escape the general effects of a continuous raise in taxes had best take account of stock and not take anybody's word for it.

Report of Treasurer.

It surprised no one who had followed the action of the legislature to have the state treasurer announce that at the rate he is at present paying out money "there will not be a dollar in the state treasury by the 1st of December, either for salaries or expenses," and that "no revenue of any consequence" will "be available before February." Henry Johnson, the treasurer, is entitled to the credit of having given the legislature this warning while it was in session, but no attention was paid to it. Mr. Johnson also says that for the fiscal year which closed on June 30th last, the state's expenditures were $16,892,474. So if the state will be out of money on December 1st, and for six months will be practically without revenue Mr. Johnson's statement means that we are spending more than the state treasury's income or nearly $19,000,000 for the current year's income. That is more than the state tax, that was so generously remitted last year, in campaign time. I am on these points because I am aware that my persistent warnings have been regarded as mere croakings by some people.

Some of the state officials chiding up with the treasurer's statement that many millions are collected by the state and returned to the counties for public schools, etc. Does any taxpayer get back any part of that money that he paid in? Of course not. Such talk is to my mind pure and simple. Don't take my word for it. Look in the Tax Commissioner's Report for 1907 and you will find items that we are told are not state expenses. We don't "keep our cake and eat it too," as a state any more than as individuals.

In nearly every village, city and county in the state expenses are growing with this growing assessment. Big assessments always came and always will promote extravagance, from the crossroads to the capital. In Wisconsin, and the more your readers study the case for themselves the more they will endorse what I say.

Exceeding Speed Limit.

One of the inevitable results of this sort of public financing has already begun to develop. The cities of Wisconsin are being obliged to pay more for money, much more, than a few years ago. This is not confined to Wisconsin entirely, for extravagance is not confined to Wisconsin, nor is any political party, but Wisconsin is exceeding the general speed limit. Ordinarily high municipal bonds will sell at an interest rate quite below most other bonds, because the security is considered the best that can be found. A very few years back Milwaukee city bonds selling at 1-2 per cent bonds at a price of $100.00 could not sell $100.00 of 4-1/2 per cent bonds, and Milwaukee county sold $500,000 5 per cent bonds, this week. Within that 20 years the interest will equal the principal, so without compounding interest, Milwaukee will actually pay $1,200,000 for the improvements for which these bonds are sold. There is a limit to a city's credit. Nobody is compelled to lend to an extravagant spender.

The Erie Railroad at La Crosse. (Advertisement.)

The Erie Railroad has had its headquarters at Vanwatawa for the past two months, for President Underwood is always on the water, always within call, even when he is making garden at his summer home. I noticed by the papers, that headquarters were shifted for a day or two this week and that he was the guest of his old friend Capt. Isaac H. Coulton at La Crosse. When he first landed at La Crosse, back in the seventies, he ran the old Milwaukee and La Crosse elevator for Captain Montfort, who was then agent there. Now the Captain is putting out. Coulton and all of the other "hus bands" out of business by getting freight in that section, for the Erie. His title is Commercial Agent, and business is growing over there. The remarkable thing about it is that he is young and full of enthusiasm for his job and he was 55 a few months back. He is no pensioner. Mr. Underwood knew the man who he appointed him. Business is growing for the Erie all around that neighborhood. The August number of the Erie magazine contained Captain's picture and more than a page of complimentary history of his career. The picture looks just as he used to forty years ago when he was commanding a steamboat, and leading down the middle in the Virginia Reel. He still steps lively, mentally and physically. He is one of the wonders of La Crosse. Ed. Doane used to say that he and the Captain helped dig the channel for the Mississippi and I wouldn't dare tell what Captain Roosevelt used to say about him for he is representing a coal rock now.

Mrs. Howie and Suffragists. Mrs. Ada Howie who is a member of the State Board of Agriculture, is a practical woman who makes her living in agricultural pursuits. She is a widow and looks after her own business successfully. When the suffrage women were refused an opportunity to have a booth on the state fair grounds, they took a particular umbrage at the fact that Mrs. Howie was opposed to it. The ground for the refusal was not narrow. No political propaganda could be allowed to have a tent or booth on the fair grounds. But a number of women wrote communications to the papers, at the time criticizing her for opposing them. The sequel indicates that she is quite equal to taking care of herself. Mrs. Jeanson of Oshkosh and some other suffrage women were at the fair grounds the other day, wearing suffrage emblems, and Mrs. Howie declined to be introduced to them. She objected to their occupation and said "I haven't time to be bothered with suffragists." Some of the suffragists were angry, but it was reported in the papers and Mrs. Howie was pleased to receive a number of bouquets the next day, to encourage her independence. I think that women are likely to take their politics pretty seriously.

PERRY CELEBRATION ENJOYED BY PUPILS

Pageants in Different Parts of the City Awakened Interest in Patriotic Observances.

So enthusiastic were those who witnessed the observance of the centennial of the battle of Lake Erie by the pupils in the city schools, and so interested the children who took part in the pageants and singing that it is probable more national holidays and anniversaries of historical events will in the future be celebrated in a similar manner.

The little store around the corner next to the Post Office.

Every employer under the Wisconsin Workmen's Compensation Act must carry insurance to cover his liability for compensation to which injured employees are entitled, unless, upon a showing of financial ability to pay all compensation claims, the Industrial Commission permits the employer to carry his own risk. A failure to comply with this law subjects the employer to a penalty of $25.00 a day.

THE EMPLOYERS MUTUAL LIABILITY INSURANCE CO.

was organized by EMPLOYERS of Wisconsin to provide the insurance required under the

Wisconsin Workmen's Compensation Act

and to enable them to

Insure For Employes Instead Of Against Them

The Company is the oldest company confining itself entirely to Compensation Insurance; has a larger Wisconsin premium income, has issued more policies, covers more lives, and has provided compensation for a greater number of industrial accidents in this State than any other company, and has saved its policyholders more than $325,000.00 in premiums during the past two years.

The Policy of the Company covers the Employer completely and provides for complete release from liability incurred.

Its premiums are fixed after inspection according to an Individual Merit Rating System, thus giving to the careful Employer the lowest rate with a constant incentive for accident prevention.

— MORRIS MILLER —

"Why is it that they curse on the golf course, but seldom in the billiard room?" asks a prominent London billiard expert. And his query sets us to thinking. It's certainly true that considerable more cursing is heard on the links than at the billiard table, when a misplay or slip-up occurs. It doesn't seem reasonable that this is partly due to the fact that one is more apt, when highly incensed, to indulge in blasphemy outdoors than in. Also, the newspaper wags and comic weeklies have done a great deal to encourage the notion that to play golf with éclat one must be able to curse to beat the band. If billiards had been set upon our wags and weeklies maybe the billiardists would add an oath to "not quite legs enough!"

They say it's the last season in the big show for old "Silk" O'Loughlin. Silk and his far-famed "strike tub" are not expected to survive more than the few remaining weeks of the present season, and then one of the most picturesque figures of the umpire clan will beat it to the shores of Lethe. Rumor goes on to tell how Silk has played out his string and is no longer the officiator he once was. Complaints are made continually of his decisions. Club owners, players and managers all join in declaring that silk is no longer efficient and that he should be removed. Even the most conservative insist that he has ceased to be fit and it looks like Ban Johnson will have to bend an ear to the voice of the baseball public. O'Loughlin broke into the league ten years ago, when he was hired for his rap as a squelcher of rowdism. Rowdism isn't the factor in the game it was ten years ago and as O'Loughlin was never so very long on judgment or eyesight it appears that he will have to bid us goodbye. And "Strike tub" may never be heard again.

This Speaker, star southpaw outfielder, started in the game as a right-handed pitcher. This was some while ago, however, and since then he has left the box for the outfield and has changed his manner of throwing. It was when he was a kid about eight that Speaker decided to throw with his right hand. He was thrown from a horse, his left arm was injured, and being an active ball player even at that early age, he didn't wait for his left arm to mend but started in pitching with his right. A little later when he was big enough to join the bush leagues he signed as a pitcher, but hard luck and a few other things hindered his progress in the box. He was slumping the ball so hard, though, that his managers put him in the outfield, where he has done very neat work ever since. It was with Cleburne of the Northern Texas league that Speaker first entered professional ball.

Frank Chance is a strategist as well as an able baseball manager and if he can't make a player put up the goods one way he will try another. A little example of which follows: About two months ago Caldwell, one of the Yanks' pitchers, was demonstrating very cleverly just how punk a pitcher could pitch. Which peeved Chance. Caldwell pitched a no-hitter and Chance thought he would make a much better outfielder than a pitcher and would he please henceforth hold the outer gardens. And Caldwell plied for another change in the box. Chance gave him the go-ahead—and Caldwell since has been pitching about the best ball in the league. As good as the wonderful W. Johnson ever. He has won five out of the last six battles, allowing few hits. He shut out the Senators a week ago with three little bingles.

Lightweight, says he has been offered a bout with Freddie Welch, to take place in Denver the latter part of this month.

It looks as though the next important heavyweight bout will be a battle between Frank Moran, of Pittsburgh, and "Gunboat" Smith.

ROCKFORD GOLFERS DELIGHTFUL HOSTS

Entertain a Large Party of Sinissippi Players and Guests on Friday.

Members of the Sinissippi Golf club who were the guests of the Rockford Country Club on Friday, are most enthusiastic over their entertainment by their hosts. The Rockford Country club had sent a special invitation to the Janesville players to come to Rockford and a large number responded. They traveled by auto, by train and by electric cars. The golf enthusiasts played a matched game, the ladies were entertained at bridge and at one o'clock a most delicious luncheon was served. The afternoon and at six thirty dinner was served followed by a dance for the visitors. Among those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. L. Wilcox, Rev. J. C. Hazen and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dunlop, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tallman, Mr. and Mrs. George E. King, Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Barnhart, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bailey, Miss Whitton, Frank Baines, Fred Schaller, Al Schaller, Orton Sutherland, Fred Baker, J. J. Cunningham, Burns Brewer, Leslie Bailey and William Bladen, Douglas McKoy, Charles Thpet, Miss Julia Lovejoy and Mrs. Arthur Harris. Rockford won the game.

BASEBALL CHATTER

Houston is a repeater in the Texas league having won both the 1912 and 1913 pennants.

Even with a weak team behind him Pitcher Ray Caldwell, of the Highlanders, has done remarkable hurling this season.

Roush, the youngster who has been playing short for the White Sox, looks like a handy man for the Callahan crew.

The Canadian league teams put up a great race this season, with Ottawa coming home a winner just seven points ahead of London.

John Pich, (pronounced Pie) has joined the Highlanders' pitching staff. It is not yet known whether he is of the soft-shell variety.

In recent games against Brooklyn and New York Pitcher George Tyler shut out both teams. He held the Superbas to three hits and allowed the Giants but one bingle.

Ray Demmitt, of the Montreal team is leading the batting list in the International league, with Simmons of Rochester and Swanson of Newark following close behind.

Ned Egan is making quite a re-successive times have Egan and his Ottumwa team copped the pennant in the Central association.

The Jones family has the edge in heavy clothing in the American association. Uncle Tom of Milwaukee and Old Davey of Toledo are the leading batsmen in the association.

An all-star team of the Federal league will play a series of post-season games with Bill Phillips Indianapolis team, who are the champions of the new organization.

Just as the Louisville Colonels were making a great fight for the American association pennant they bumped up against the tail-end Indianapolis outfit and lost three straight games.

Eagle-Eye Jake Heckley, who has been playing ball for forty years, more or less, is out to land a job as umpire in one of the big leagues this season and is olive to tell the tale.

The Cubs and the White Sox are to meet in a series of games for the Chicago championship. Likewise the Red Sox and the Braves will contest for the Boston title. St. Louis fans, however, do not appear keen to see the Browns and Cardinals in action.

William Vahntingham Hieronymus, a right-handed pitcher from Clinton county, Ohio, has been signed by the Cubs. If Bill leaves at least seven-eighths of his name in Clinton county he will still have plenty of monitor for a debut in fast society.

EDGERTON HOPES TO DOWN LOCAL TEAM

Strong Nine Will Oppose Janesville Cardinals With Butters on Mound Sunday.

Everyone of the Janesville Cardinals are confident that they are going to shake their losing streak tomorrow when they clash with the Edgerton team at the driving park. Butters should be in the line to dole out a trimming to the visitors and Card infield vow that they will give him winning support. In the early part of the season the locals gave the Edgerton nine a trouncing with Crandall pitching for Edgerton, but he evened matters up when he and Butters hooked up in a duel at the Edgerton picnic winning by a lone tally. The Edgerton fans are expected to be down to witness the game as there has been considerable interest taken with the nine.

On Sunday afternoon the Janesville White Sox journey to Beloit to clash with the Troop nine. Connell will hurt for the Sox and despite the fact that most of the Sox have not played during the last month a victory is looked for. The Beloit nine will have a strong team against them as most of the players are old high school team players.

SCENE FROM ACT III IN "MADAME X," AT MYERS THEATRE, MATINEE AND NIGHT, SATURDAY, SEPT. 13.

Many times during the play dry eyes will be scarce on the evening Miss Alice De Lane and her excellent company, including Boyd B. Trousdale, will present that great story of mother-love, "Madame X."

The pathos and heart rendering scenes are well-known even to those who have seen the play, but the intense feeling that is created by the story comes only by the seeing.

It is easy to understand how such a play could be made ridiculous, but over acted, and lose all its power and effect, but Miss De Lane, it is said, upholds every tradition that accompanies the portrayal of the woman. Appropriate stage settings complete the picture and there is nothing lost, no serious moments wasted on the listeners. Unseasonable laughter has, in the past been of human interest plays, but in the production of "Madame X" this of fense is entirely lost.

This play comes to the Myers Theatre Saturday, September 13, matinee and evening.

WEATHER FORECAST
Continued fair weather tonight and Sunday.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

I met a Kansas granger whose corn crop was in danger from drouth and roasted wind; it was enough to make him disconsolate and break him, and still the farmer grinned. He looked across his acres, all doomed by weather fakers who got the climate mixed; he watched the dust clouds swirling, he saw the corn leaves curling, he looked the rows betwixt; he said: "It's gone, I reckon; it's shriveled up, by heck, an' it won't produce an ear; of course, it's mighty grievous; such things will always peeve us—but better luck next year!" His spirit wasn't humbled, he neither groaned nor grumbled, nor cast away his tools; misfortune round him bristled, but cheerily he whistled, and manuevered his mules. How many are undaunted when good things they have wanted like bubbles disappear? How many grin at sorrow and look toward tomorrow and better luck next year. That farmer in the future, when you disgruntled, took our loud trumpet of despair, will have all kinds of money, his days will all be sunny, and diamonds he will wear. For fortune always favors the man who never wavers when evil days appear, who sizes up affliction, and says, with graceful diction, "Well, better luck next year!"

The reports from Kansas were so discouraging, during the recent drouth that the people of the country were led to believe that the corn crop was ruined, and that the state had received a setback from which it would not soon recover.

The following editorial from a late issue of a Kansas City farm journal, is entitled to wide publicity, as the state has been badly libeled.

"Inasmuch as sensational and misleading letters and dispatches from western correspondents, and editorials, based on them, are appearing in Eastern papers somewhat given to sensations, concerning the recent hot and dry spell or period, through which several of the states lying west of the Mississippi river and east of the Rocky mountains have passed, it seems that it is up to some one to write a sane and sober words dealing with the situation as it really exists, and to tell the people, not alone of the East but of every other section, that there is neither cause nor reason for sending out heralds to assault the ears of the world with a calamity cry.

"The facts, soberly set forth, are as follows: We had here, though a little late in getting down to business, a spring that was really prolific in its production. There were not only good but well high record yields of early fruits and vegetables and what is generally known as 'truck garden stuff.' The demand was good and the prices were good, and the outlook not only hopeful but full of promise, so far as wheat, corn, oats, alfalfa, and other revenue-producing crops were concerned. While this was true in a general way of all the states lying west of the Mississippi river and east of the mountains, it was particularly true of Kansas, where conditions, as the result of heat, hot winds and drouth, seem to have inspired the sensational letters and dispatches that have appeared and still are appearing in Eastern papers. Now, as to their basis:

"The hot weather, with its accompanying hot winds and lack of moisture, put in an appearance early in July, and prevailed over a large section of Oklahoma, nearly all of Kansas, a large portion of Missouri and the better parts of the lower or southern halves of Nebraska and Iowa. There were favored sections in all the states mentioned that had timely and beneficial rains, which not only helped to save the wheat, oats and hay crops, but put the corn crop in fine condition. Nevertheless, as the intense heat and lack of rain continued it largely reduced the wheat yield in certain counties in southwestern Kansas and put the corn crop in peril wherever the conditions of heat and drouth prevailed. As these conditions prevailed in a large part of Kansas, the reports went out that the entire state was practically burning up and that, in many counties, the farmers would not get the seed put in the ground. It is needless to say that these reports were not only grossly exaggerated but absolutely baseless. These conditions have not existed at any time and do not now exist, and no one would laugh at these reports more heartily than the Kansas business man and the Kansas farmer, if they were as harmless as they are untrue.

"The latest government reports show that the wheat yield exceeded that of 1912 by about 7,000,000 bushels, and is well up to the average of recent years. Taken in connection with the prolific production of the ante-harvest months, and the ideal dairy conditions of May and June, the best dairy months of the year, the end of the wheat harvest left the average Kansas farmer with a fair balance on the right side of the ledger. To prove this it is only necessary to advert to the fact that bank deposits of the state, largely the deposits of Kansas farmers, showed an increase for July of several million dollars and made a new record, in their aggregate amount, in the banking history of the state.

"That there will be a short yield of corn is admitted, but this shortage will be largely discounted if not actually wiped out by a market increase in price. Another factor that must not be overlooked, is that not only in Kansas but in every part of the heat-and-drouth-affected section there is a big yield of orchard fruits, including cherries, peaches, pears, plums, grapes, apples, etc. In the Ozark region of Southern Missouri, alone the value of the Elberta peach crop, now being marketed, is estimated at $1,500,000. To the above may be added the further statement that Arkansas is boasting the most prolific year of production in its history, due to timely rains and other favoring conditions, and like reports are being sent out from Texas.

"As the business center, in a wholesale, jobbing and manufacturing sense, of an important section of the great Southwest, Kansas City is naturally interested in any report affecting that section which is sent East. If these reports are exaggerated or untrue and are accepted at their face value, they will work an injury in the brief period of a few days that it will take months to repair. Out here we don't fear the truth; in the long run it hurts no one. Inasmuch, however, as we have no intention of starting a calamity cry ourselves, we can hardly be expected to endorse those who, uninformed as to actual conditions, have been telling the people of the East that the calamity days have come back to Kansas and the West."

Walt Mason is a Kansas man, and for many years has been on the editorial staff of the Emporia Gazette, the paper which made its owner, William Allen White, famous. Mr. Mason has gained a national reputation through his prose poems, which are syndicated and widely published throughout the country.

He is an optimist, and the vein of homely philosophy which runs through his writings, is always refreshing. He is a typical representative of the state which he has adopted for a home, for the Kansas farmer, as a class, seldom worries, and the bright side of life always appeals to him.

The average Kansas farm house is not a palace. It was built back in the days when the frontier was being reclaimed and ambitions to improve it were blighted by the grasshopper plague which cursed the state for a decade, but the old house is a home, in the broadest sense of the word.

The state was colonized in an early day by scattered families from the New England and Central states, whose religious creed included pronounced ideas on prohibition. They were intelligent, well-educated people and the library and piano were as much a part of the home equipment as the kitchen furniture.

The school houses of Kansas have always been literary centers where the farmer and his family assembled to cultivate the mind and enjoy the pleasant intercourse of neighborhood associations. Organization for mutual helpfulness very naturally followed and the "grange," which flourished for many years, was a product of the Sanfower state.

The people took time to live, and during the long years of blight from the plague which cursed the state they never lost hope, and when at last the land was redeemed, a year of jubilee and a carload of burned farm mortgages marked the event.

More than a short season of drouth is necessary to discourage the people of Kansas, and the "granger" who furnished Walt Mason a text, happened to be the first man he met on the street.

"The bright side of life is always worth cultivating, and it seldom pays to be a pessimist. No part of the country is more highly favored this year than southern Wisconsin, and our home people have occasion to rejoice because local conditions are so favorable. When the new tariff, which is largely a free trade measure, goes into effect, the high cost of living should no longer annoy.

HAVE YOUNG TREES TO STOCK RESERVES

State Board of Forestry Prepared to Stock Burnt Lands and State Parks Next Spring

Madison, Wis., Sept. 13.—Over 1,884,000 young trees are now being grown in the forest nursery of the state board of forestry, according to a report which has just been prepared by State Forester E. W. Griffith. Of this total, 1,043,000 trees will be large enough by next spring to be used in planting some of the cut-over and burned areas within the state forest reserve and state parks. Probably some 200,000 of these trees, according to Mr. Griffith, will be used in the state parks, leaving over 700,000 for the forest reserve, which will be sufficient to reforest between 600 and 700 acres. On by far the largest portions of the forest reserve planting will not be necessary, for when forest fires are prevented the young forest growth comes up naturally.

"The forest reserve has been divided into districts," said Mr. Griffith, "a forest ranger being in charge of the work in each district, and by means of a system of roads, fire lines, telephone lines and lookout towers which have been built, the rangers are able to quickly locate any forest fire that may start and promptly extinguish it. A number of forest fires started during the dry weather of last June but all were put out before they had done any serious damage."

During the past three seasons the following young trees have been planted on cut-over or burned lands within the forest reserve: in 1911, 192,200; in 1912, 18,000 and in 1913, 27,700, making a total of 237,900. Beginning next spring the big forest nursery at Trout Lake will produce about 1,000,000 young trees each year, and another nursery which is being prepared at Tomahawk lake will yield an additional 500,000 trees each year. It is the intention of the state board of forestry to sell at about the cost the trees raised in the Tomahawk lake nursery to citizens of Wisconsin who wish to reforest their own lands.

Of the 1,884,000 trees in the Trout Lake nursery, 348,000 are Norway pine; 330,000 Scotch pine; 127,000 western yellow pine; 1,052,000 white pine; 22,000 Norway spruce and 25,000 Colorado blue spruce. Mr. Griffith returned a few days ago from an inspection of the forest reserve nurseries.

STORY OF THE MOMENT

Looking—
When Henry graduated.
His parents proudly said,
"He'll land a fat position
And earn our daily bread."

A stipewed of ten thousand.
They thought that he would draw.
He was the smartest student
The home town ever saw.

Then Henry started looking
For some job good enough
Of course he couldn't find it.
The bosses were all gruff.

They asked most pointed question,
In harshest tones they'd speak;
The job that was offered
Paid seven bones per week.

The graduation essay
The town will never forget;
But as to that position—
Well, Henry's looking yet.

Where It Goes.

Auto man,
Preacher man,
Want their due.
Housemaid,
Nursemaid,
Lady with wash;
Dressmaker,
Shoemaker,
Also by gosh,
Packer,
Man for rent;
After Every Doggone cent.

Resort Paraphernalia
I've been to hundreds of resorts,
Again and then again,
And I have never seen one yet
Without a Lover's Lane.

I've hunted outing spots galore,
I've studied 'em a heap;
But I have yet to find the place
That has no Lover's Leap.

Tuesday, Sept. 16.
"The Human Bridge"

A story of adventure, of a rush for Australian gold. A picture by the producers of "Quo Vadis?", featuring Anthony Novelli, world-famous picture star whose interpretation of Venutius has been hailed as master work.

Two parts.
Wednesday, Sept. 17.
"The Power of Conscience"

A strong two-part dramatic offering by Essanay, featuring the popular player Francis X. Bushman.

Thursday, Sept. 18.
"The Water Rat"

A two-part Selig detective story.

Friday, Sept. 19.
"The Invaders"

A two-part Kalum adapted from John Lloyd's famous novel. This thrilling story is based upon one of the most dramatic incidents in the history of the West—"The Rustler War", fought in the Hole-in-the-Wall country, Wyoming, in 1892.

Saturday, Sept. 20.
"The Feudists"

The crowning glory of the week will be this uproarious two-part Lyric-Vitagraph comedy, with the greatest fun-makers of all, Sidney Drew and John Bunny, supported by such as Lillian Walker, Flora Finch and Wallie Van.

And for a week from tomorrow we will announce the second of the "What Happened to Mary" series, and another Pathe's Weekly.

Although I've batted 'round a lot,
And though I'm batting still,
I've never found a place
Without its Lookout Hill.

In all the places I have been,
Resorts of every grade,
There isn't one that doesn't have
A rocking chair brigade.

There isn't one that hasn't got
A place where you can fish,
And have them photographed as large

As anyone could wish.
Each has its ancient Mariner,
Who hands out fishing bunk,
And one thing more—each place I've been

The food is always punk.

Wanted.
A howling blizzard from the north,
Accompanied by blinding snow,
And zero weather freezing fast
Would suit a lot of folks I know.
Some good fresh air that one can breathe.

And never, wheeze or gasp a bit;
The fat folks, Mr. Weather Man,
Without a doubt would relish it.
Turn on the frost and sleet and hail
And let the thin folks freeze a while;
Cut out for once, partially.

Let us folks have a cause to smile,
Insect some humid in the air,
Shut off the humid stuff and give
We thick, upholstered ones a chance
To fill our lungs and really live.

SideLights On The Circus Business By D. W. WATT

(Copyrighted.)

It was last evening and well up into the eighties that two brothers by the name of Orrin were known all over Cuba as the Barnums of that country. In those days along in the summer the Orrins would send their agent over to America to look over the Adam Forepaugh and the Barnum shows and pick out such attractions as they thought would be a feature in their show, which would open usually about December the first in the Coliseum building in Havana, Cuba.

In those days it was the custom of both the Forepaugh and the Barnum shows to have European agents who would leave this country for Europe immediately after the close of the show and make a tour all over Europe for both animals and feature acts for the big shows for the coming season. But the Orrin Brothers in Havana, were more fortunate for all they had to do was to send their agent over to this country where he could find plenty of features with the two great shows.

It was along about eighty-two or eighty-three that they erected the big show in Havana, Cuba, much on the same scale of the Barnum and the Forepaugh shows in this country. For the most part they got their horses and lady riders in Havana. But the Orrin Brothers like the Barnum and Forepaugh have passed on and now the business of that country has fallen into the hands of some brothers by the name of Pubolona and they are known all over Cuba and Spain as the Ringlings of those countries.

For the last few years their agent has been Frank J. Longbottom, a young man who has had several years' experience in show business and who is not only a good agent but also a good manager in Cuba of the Pubolona show. This show for most part shows in the larger cities like Havana, City of Mexico and Vera Cruz and while the seasons in that country are shorter than they are here, they are showing all the larger cities, the Pubolona show is divided and Frank Longbottom is given one and the Pubolona take another and start through the interior of that country in different directions and they have to travel by what is called the bull cart route.

These trips usually last for two or three weeks and the hardships that the average porter has to go through on these trips are anything but desirable. They have to sleep in the carts, run their own cook tents, and their provisions are such as is possible for them to buy from the natives. The cities and La Salle hotels of that country are far apart and the shorter these trips into the interior are the better it suits the average American performer.

Frank J. Longbottom's home is at Chester, Pa., and he is now spending his vacation. Antonio Pubolona sailed from Spain several weeks ago with his family to spend two months or more in this country and his manager, Mr. Longbottom engaged a carriage on the Hudson river for him and his family, but a contagious disease broke out on the ship and they were obliged to return to Spain, but are expected to arrive here by the middle of this month on another boat.

Frank J. Longbottom is well known in Janesville and is a close personal of Mr. and Mrs. John Manning of this city and it is to them that he is under obligations for many of the facts concerning the Pubolona Shows.

After Mr. Pubolona gets his family well settled in their cottage on the Hudson that he and Mr. Longbottom will visit all the largest and best showmen in the country and make arrangements for their shows for the coming season and they will probably both return to Cuba sometime early in November.

One of the main attractions for the big shows in that country is the big lion fight in which the bull usually comes out victorious and while this may seem to be a barbarous kind of entertainment it seems to be what the average Cuban and Spanish circus going people demand.

General W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) and H. H. Tammen associate owner of the Denver Post, Kansas City Post and Sells-Floto Circus spent a few hours in Chicago, Saturday, August 30, on their way to Detroit, where they were to visit the Sells-Floto Shows and incidentally confer with representatives of Buffalo Bill's Canadian mining interests.

They returned to Chicago Wednesday, and then proceeded to the big Horn Basin where moving pictures will be made in which Col. Cody will personally appear. These pictures promise to prove of great historical value for they will bring out in a clear and vivid manner the life of Buffalo Bill, who has played an important part in developing the West, and has performed memorable deeds in the service of our country. During their stay in Chicago, Cody and Tammen were guests of General Manager Stevens of the Hotel La Salle, and were tendered the use of the State Suite.

Arthur Davis was delegated to look after the comfort of the distinguished guests and the right royal treatment that his honors. A perfect stream of newspaper men and women and well wishing friends paid their respects during the day, and the Chicago papers carried columns of interesting matter about the future plans for the Buffalo-Sells-Floto Combination next season.

Buffalo Bill has received all kinds of offers to appear in vaudeville during the fall and winter season. One came from England offering him one thousand pounds a week to play the halls of London and on the continent. American interests are also keen to get Buffalo Bill's service, and have offered him twenty weeks at a fabulous salary. It is not probable that Col. Cody will appear in the variety houses as his time will be pretty well engaged for some time in looking after his ranches and mining affairs in the far west.

Mr. Tammen declared the Buffalo Bill-Sells-Floto Combination next year will be the greatest and most unique tent aggregation projected and the price of admission will be prepared for it. The Buffalo Bill-Tammen party, including the Adam Forepaugh, Vice-President of the Showmen's League, and others were guests of Harry Askin at a performance of "A Trip to Washington" at the La Salle Opera House, August 31st, occupying a box.

The box characteristic and impressive thing about the modern circus is its utter lack of self-consciousness. Big, blatant, unprecedented and extraordinary—a colossal conglomeration of animals and acrobats that moves and has its being in accordance with iron-clad law—the essential spirit of the circus betrays no realization of the wonder, no consciousness that all this is anything other than "matter-of-fact" and "every-day."

That is why the "literary gent" who occasionally feels prompted to describe one of these remarkable amusement enterprises usually writes a batch of these reports. He is self-conscious all the time he is about it, the more because the splendid indifference of the marvel upsets his poise and disturbs his self assurance.

Instead of emulating the spirit of little children who, after all, are the holy ones who really get close to the heart of the circus—he enters the tented city with some measure of consciousness as a superior student of "socialism" and "economics" or as a patronizing artist capable of doing a neat bit of fine writing.

We are prompted to these remarks by two articles in the Greatest Show on Earth, the one by a writer of the "Literary Digest" and the other by William Ellery Leonard contributes the one and Editor Richard Lloyd Jones of the Madison Journal the other.

The first thing suggested by these articles is that neither of these reports is a masterpiece of literature, but the editor says it was a "seven ring show" and the professor saw a crocodile and a cobra. Indeed, Prof. Leonard describes so many features and things while the scenes in that country are shorter than they are here, they are showing all the larger cities, the Pubolona show is divided and Frank Longbottom is given one and the Pubolona take another and start through the interior of that country in different directions and they have to travel by what is called the bull cart route.

But Editor Jones is even more startling, not so much in what he saw as what he doesn't know about the circus business. Indeed, there is but one respectable fact in the whole article and that is the story about the baby elephant which he got from the press agent's life of James A. Bailey in the official program.

But when he says that the "kindness to animals" policy entered the circus with this little elephant, he makes a statement for which there is little warrant as there is for any of his assertion concerning the alleged changes that have come over circus performers and circus animals in recent years.

Why, we should tell him how years before that baby elephant was ever dreamed of Burr Robbins nearly killed one of his roustabouts with a tent pole for having annoyed an old bear.

As for the bare-back riders and aerialists who, according to Mr. Jones have developed from ignorant louts into "students of the art of equilibrium" it might be profitable for him to read a little circus history—for instance, that of the Rantz family, ancient and honorable—and learn something of the character of the profession in the past century.

If Prof. Leonard has tried to be "literary" at the expense of simplicity and truth and thus missed the very spirit of the circus, Editor Jones has shot even wider of the mark by trying to patronize with half-baked knowledge a profession that rises mountains high above the need of such celebration.

Once in a while a "literary gent" writes understandingly and with inspiration, about the circus. Oscar Wilde did that once, and recently Brander Matthews. But on the whole, we prefer the yarn of a seasoned press agent like Coxe or the late Whiting Allen. They may not write literature, but they do write circus.

They returned to Chicago Wednesday, and then proceeded to the big Horn Basin where moving pictures will be made in which Col. Cody will personally appear. These pictures promise to prove of great historical value for they will bring out in a clear and vivid manner the life of Buffalo Bill, who has played an important part in developing the West, and has performed memorable deeds in the service of our country. TO REPLACE HORSE DECLINE IN CATTLE RECEIPTS IS MARKED

French Military Authorities Plan to Have Their Artillery Drawn by Motor Trucks.

IDEA CONSIDERED GOOD ONE

Experiments Already Made Seem to Demonstrate That It Is Entirely Feasible and Will Give Army Much Better Service.

Horses have been marked down for abolition from the artillery service of the French army. The French, who claim to have the finest artillery in the world, have come to the conclusion that better service can be obtained on the field with motor trucks than with teams of horses.

Higher speed and greater mobility is assured with the use of motor vehicles, the degree of reliability is higher, the number of men per gun is less, and all possibility of a battery being rendered useless by a stampede of horses is avoided.

Experiments have been carried out for a considerable length of time and such satisfactory results have been obtained that it has been decided to make use of motors in place of horses for all the regiments stationed in Africa. For the time being mechanical traction is being used for the heavy 220 millimeter guns, the lighter arms still being served by horses.

Orders have been placed with automobile manufacturers for special types of four-wheel drive tractors and some of these have been put through their paces on the military grounds at Vincennes, to the east of Paris.

The program called for an ability to haul a load of 12 tons over any kind of ground on which horses could operate. The tractors took in tow a line of gun carriages and ammunition wagons, the first carriage bearing the 220 millimeter gun, and was called upon to haul it over every kind of ground on which horses had successfully ventured.

The most severe tests consisted in taking the load up very steep banks of soft earth forming the background to the artillery firing ranges. The earth was either so soft or so muddy that there was very little grip for the wheels, yet all these tests were successfully accomplished.

In the mud-plugging competition the machines had to go through mud reaching to the hub caps.

Another test was the ability to get over the trunk of a big tree which had been laid across the track and pinned in position to prevent it being pushed out of the way by the wheels. This was also done successfully.

Finally, there was an immersion test, the tractor being taken down the muddy river bank under its own power and run into the stream until its wheels were entirely under water, the frame members just being submerged. After remaining in this position for a little while, the machine was brought out under its own power.—From Motor.

MARSHAL QUILTS JOB; HAS NO WORK TO DO

Lante Oliver For Fifteen Years Marshal at Kingston, Missouri, Tenders Resignation.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Kingston, Mo., Sept. 13.—Lante Oliver, city marshal of Kingston, for fifteen years, resigned today because he said "there are no more duties for a marshal to perform in this town." Once Marshal Oliver was a busy man. The door of the town calaboose swung on well oiled hinges. Three drug stores did a saloon business without a bar. There were two pool halls and a bowling alley. But times changed. But dry sentiment ran out two of the drug stores. There is only one now and it is law abiding. Pool halls and bowling alley were closed. Arrests were so few that the town council sold the calaboose at auction. Bola Brown bought it for a hen house. Oliver said his patriotism made him ashamed to draw his salary and besides if he ever found any one to arrest he would have no place to put him so he resigned.

MISSIONARY DENIES THAT THE BULGARS COMMITTED CRUELTY

L. D. Woodruff, First Foreigner to Enter Adrianople After Surrender of Turks, Relates Experience.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Sept. 13.—One of the staunchest defenders of the Bulgarians in the present controversy over the question of alleged atrocities is L. D. Woodruff, the veteran American missionary, who recently presented a statement to the British foreign office on behalf of Bulgaria.

Mr. Woodruff was the first foreigner, outside of the Bulgarians, permitted to enter Adrianople after the surrender of the Turks. He walked in at dawn over the scarred battlefields, and for weeks afterward he was in active charge of the relief work in the Turkish cholera camps. He was constantly in a position to see who was responsible for any atrocities in Adrianople and its neighborhood, and he absolves the Bulgarian authorities from any blame for the isolated outrages which took place.

Coming to London with a committee of native Bulgarian and English missionaries to present a statement to the British foreign office, which was desired by the British foreign office in its work of delimiting the Enos-Media line fixed by the conference of London, Mr. Woodruff took advantage of the occasion to tell the English foreign minister something of the Bulgarian side of the atrocity charges. Sir Edward was so impressed by the assertions of the American that he requested him to supplement them with a written account of his personal observations.

A summary of his statement to Sir Edward Grey follows: "When I entered the city the streets of Adrianople were free from any excitement or disturbance, with the exception of a few scattering shots which I learned afterwards had been fired at some Turkish officers who sought to escape from a house where they had been hiding. The people, however, were in a state of relief and happiness on the faces of the people, for even to the suburban defenders the Bulgarian accusation was a relief from impending starvation."

"I was surprised at how little damage had been done to the city by the bombing, only twelve civilians having been killed. I saw no fuzes being knocked from the heads of Turks, and I know that when someone complained to General Vazoff that his soldiers were snatching the fuzes from the heads of citizens, he issued an order that any soldier found guilty of such an action be promptly shot."

"The European Turkish soldiers were released as soon as the list of their names were submitted. The others were started as soon as possible on the road to Bulgaria, and after the column had passed several bodies were found. These were prisoners who had been shot as grim necessities of war because they either would not or could not be released."

"The Turkish officers were sent to the best hotels in Philippopolis and Sofia. The soldiers were given bread as soon as it could be procured. Many Turks died in the cholera camps from hunger, because of the indifference and lack of organization of their fellows. On account of the danger of infection the Bulgarians passed the bread across the lines to selected orderlies, but the supplies of Turkish doctors as to Bulgarian neglect. Shukri Pasha was praised by the Bulgarians for his heroic defense of the city, but this awful island of death was the chief fruit of his heroism."

"When I took charge of the relief work in this terrible detention camp I was given an unlimited credit to draw on the Bulgarian army supplies, but we did not need greatly to deplete these supplies on account of the provisions sent by the British consul at Philippopolis. Not only did no massacres take place in the mosques, but so well were they guarded that when we attempted, in a spirit of mild vandalism, to remove a piece of the Koran lying on the floor of the Sultan Selim mosque we were prevented from doing so by a vigilant Bulgarian soldier. An Armenian gentleman, who saw from a tower the long columns of Bulgarians entering the city, said to me with feeling: 'The Bulgarians entered the city like gentlemen; how different it would have been had the tables been turned.'"

Mr. Woodruff declares further that his work in the city kept him from seeing much of the second Balkan war, but on his trip through the country on his way home he did not find any creditable evidence connecting the Bulgarian regulars with any atrocities.

"The missionary is full of praise for Miss Clara Haskell, an American missionary teacher, who was acting as a nurse in a Bulgarian hospital where the Turks re-entered Adrianople. All the able-bodied Bulgarians, including the doctors, fled, leaving the invalids to their fate. Miss Haskell, besought to flee by the Bulgarians, in the end declined to do so, declaring that she preferred to remain with her charges at the risk of her life, if necessary. She was not molested by the invaders, and her patients were not disturbed."

"King of All Liars."
"The King of all liars" is the title bestowed on the King of Greece by Pastor D. N. Furnajeff, a Bulgarian who is in London as a member of the delegation which presented the foreign office with a statement regarding the position of Bulgarians in the region of the Enos-Media line. Pastor Furnajeff, who is a Princeton graduate, declares the Grecian monarch has earned the title by his signed statement to the press that 20,000 Moslems had been massacred at Doiran by the Bulgarians. The pastor is a native of the district near Doiran, and he declares that the town, which is almost purely Bulgarian, has only 7,000 people, and that in the whole district there are not more than 1,000 Moslems. The Bulgarian clergyman states that the Greek king has been equally far from the truth in his charges against the Bulgarian armies. He declares that his inquiry at the British foreign office has led him to believe that not a single English consul in the Balkans had reported the Bulgarians as the perpetrators of atrocities.

Shut Down on Arms Permits.
Recruiting for the corps of gunpowder of the Women's Social and Political Union has come to a standstill for the reason that the authorities, alarmed at the growing number of women asking permission to bear arms, have declined to issue any more licenses to women. Nevertheless, less than three hundred licenses to carry arms had been issued to members of the W. S. P. U. before this restrictive measure was adopted.

Information supplied by news from Scotland Yard that the militants had erected a pistol range near London, caused the home office to make overtures for the present truce between the government and the Parkhurst forces.

RESIDENT OF COUNTY SINCE EARLY FORTIES

Passing of Mrs. Helen Barlass Brown Removes An Early Settler Of Rock Prairie.

Mrs. Helen Barlass Brown died early Thursday morning, September 4th, at her home seven miles east of Janesville on the Middle Road. Mrs. Brown was born June 4th, 1827 in Kinross-shire, Scotland. In 1844 she, with her mother and youngest brother, came to Rock County, Wisconsin.

MRS. HELEN BARLASS BROWN, where she spent the remainder of her life. On March 21st, 1852 she was married to Robert Brown. With the exception of two years spent at Milton after her marriage, her entire life after coming to Wisconsin was spent at her home on the farm. Death came after a few days illness as the result of the natural infirmities incident to old age. She is survived by her youngest brother, David Barlass, three sons, William Brown, at home, Dr. Robert Brown of Janesville, David Brown of Twin Falls, Idaho, and one daughter, Mrs. Traynor of near Koshong. She is also survived by eight grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Soon after coming to Wisconsin Mrs. Brown united with the Rock Prairie congregation, of which she was a faithful and consistent member until her death. At the time of her death, she was the oldest member of the congregation. Thus, one by one the pioneers of this community are rapidly passing away, but she like many others who have preceded her to the grave has bequeathed to us who are left behind a rich legacy in her unshaken faith, her staunch fidelity, her unquestioned integrity, and her beautiful Christian character.

Her funeral was held at her late home on Monday afternoon, being conducted by her pastor, Rev. C. Y. Love. A large concourse of friends and many beautiful flowers told of the high esteem in which this good woman was held in the community. The pall bearers were all her nephews, consisting of Messrs. J. T. Barlass, David M. Barlass, Andrew D. Barlass, Andrew J. Barlass, Albert Barlass and Frank Barlass. Interment was in Johnstown cemetery.

INTERNATIONAL GOLF TOURNEY NEXT WEEK

Leading Professionals of England and France Entered—More Than 150 Entered.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Sept. 13.—Another international sport competition will be added to the already lengthy list of 1913, with the playing of the United States open golf championship tournament at Brookline, Mass., next week. Owing to the entry of several of the leading professionals of England and France, the tournament has attracted unusual interest this year and elaborate arrangements are being made to accommodate the record entry and gallery during the four days of play at the Country Club course. So keen is the desire to witness the foreign players in competition with the best of America's professionals that the original arrangements for the tournament had to be revised in order to meet the new demands.

According to the latest estimates more than 150 entrants are assured and a daily gallery in excess of 5,000 will follow the players, providing favorable weather conditions prevail. The presence of Wilfrid Reid, Harry Vardon, Edward Ray and Christopher Cullerway, representing England, and Louis Teltel and Arnaud Massy of France, is likely to prove a drawing card for both entrants and spectators. In order to provide for this unusual entry, elimination rounds will be played on Monday and Tuesday. Those players who qualify with the best thirty-two scores and those tied for thirty-second place will proceed to the championship rounds to be played on Wednesday and Thursday.

The open championship dates back to the organization of the United States Golf Association in 1895, and the tournament of next week will be the nineteenth annual play for the title. Willie Anderson won in 1901-03-04-05, and J. I. McDermott in 1911-12. Alex. Smith won in 1907 and 1910. These were the only players to capture the championship more than once. Harry Vardon, the present English entrant, won the title played at Wheaton, Ill. in view of the failure of the original professionals in their invasion of England and France last spring, the efforts of the English and French players to retain this advantage on strange links will be watched with more than ordinary interest.

BEQUEATHS HIS DOG TO HIS BEST FRIEND

Animal Mentioned First in Will of John Hanson, Residing Near La Crosse—Left Much Property.

La Crosse, Sept. 13.—A dog, just a mangy little animal, with no pedigree at all but known as the best friend of his owner the late John Hanson of the town of Hamilton is mentioned as the principal bequest in the will of Hanson which was filed for probate today. Hanson left a lot of other property, fine farms and a strong box filled with mortgages, but before disposing of anything else he bequeathed his dog with much detail as to the way he should be treated to his friend Lars Fjeldstad of La Crosse. The canine is all that Fjeldstad gets of the estate, which is distributed among numerous relatives in Wisconsin and Norway.

AUTO BURNED UP IN BUT A FEW MINUTES

Strange Accident Mars H. H. Hile's Visit to Relatives in Evansville.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Evansville, Sept. 13.—H. H. Hile of Madison, a former resident of this city, met with a strange accident last evening while motoring from Madison to this city. He was alone in the car, his wife being a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wade of this city, and was to have returned with him to Madison by auto today. When near the farm of Mrs. B. H. Standish, Mr. Hile smelled smoke and upon investigation discovered the rear of his auto was on fire. He stopped the machine and in a very few minutes the whole car was ablaze and entirely destroyed, the front wheels alone escaping destruction. Mr. Hile is at a loss to explain how the fire started. It was an $1,800 machine.

CALIFORNIA STATE FAIR OPENED AT SACRAMENTO

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 13.—Beginning today and continuing through the coming week, Sacramento expects to entertain one of the largest crowds in her history. The occasion is the annual exhibition of the California State Fair Association, which this year bids fair to eclipse all of its predecessors in the number, variety and extent of its exhibits. Every building and pavilion is filled to overflowing with attractive displays illustrating the industries and resources of the state. A program of harness racing, a state shooting tournament and numerous free attractions have been provided by the management for the entertainment of the visitors.

TO SOON LAY KEEL FOR NEW SHAMROCK

Plans for Sir Thomas Lipton's Challenger Nearly Completed.—Others May Enter Yachts.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Sept. 13.—The possibilities of 1914 as a record year in sport is considerably brightened by the final signing and sealing of the agreement for a series of races for the America's cup during the month of September. It cannot be denied that negotiations between the New York and Royal Ulster Yacht clubs were conducted upon ticklish grounds, and not until the final compact was signed was the cup contest assured. Now that the last doubt regarding the yachting classic is removed there are busy sessions ahead for designers, yachtsmen and many other actors in the coming year.

It is understood that the plans for Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock IV, are about completed and the keel of the seventy-five footer will be laid within the next month or six weeks. Three and possibly four defenders, all seventy-five foot yachts, are projected at the present time, and it may be that this number will be still further augmented if the plans of certain wealthy followers of yachting materialize. It is proposed to have all these yachts in condition for the trial race preliminaries early next summer. In order that there may be ample time for the tuning-up and testing which plays such an important part in all America's cup races.

In the meantime numerous plans are being made to accommodate spectators along the New Jersey and Long Island shores off Sandy Hook, where the international regatta will be staged. The chartering of large excursion steamers for use during the month of September, 1914, has already begun and it is expected that the excursion fleet will carry 75,000 spectators to the scene of the races each day. The early tuning-up off Newport and Sandy Hook also will attract many yachtsmen. Special arrangements for reporting the trials and races by wireless are already under way and the United States navy may be asked to help in this department of the regatta.

Poker an Italian Game.
Poker is probably a development of il frusso, an Italian game of the fifteenth century. A similar game called primiera was played in Italy in the sixteenth century, and thence journeyed into Spain. In France this became ambigu, and later appeared in England under the name of brag. Poker is distinctly an American game, and seems to have descended more directly from the game of brag than from any of the others.

Stomach Trouble; Wholly Restored!

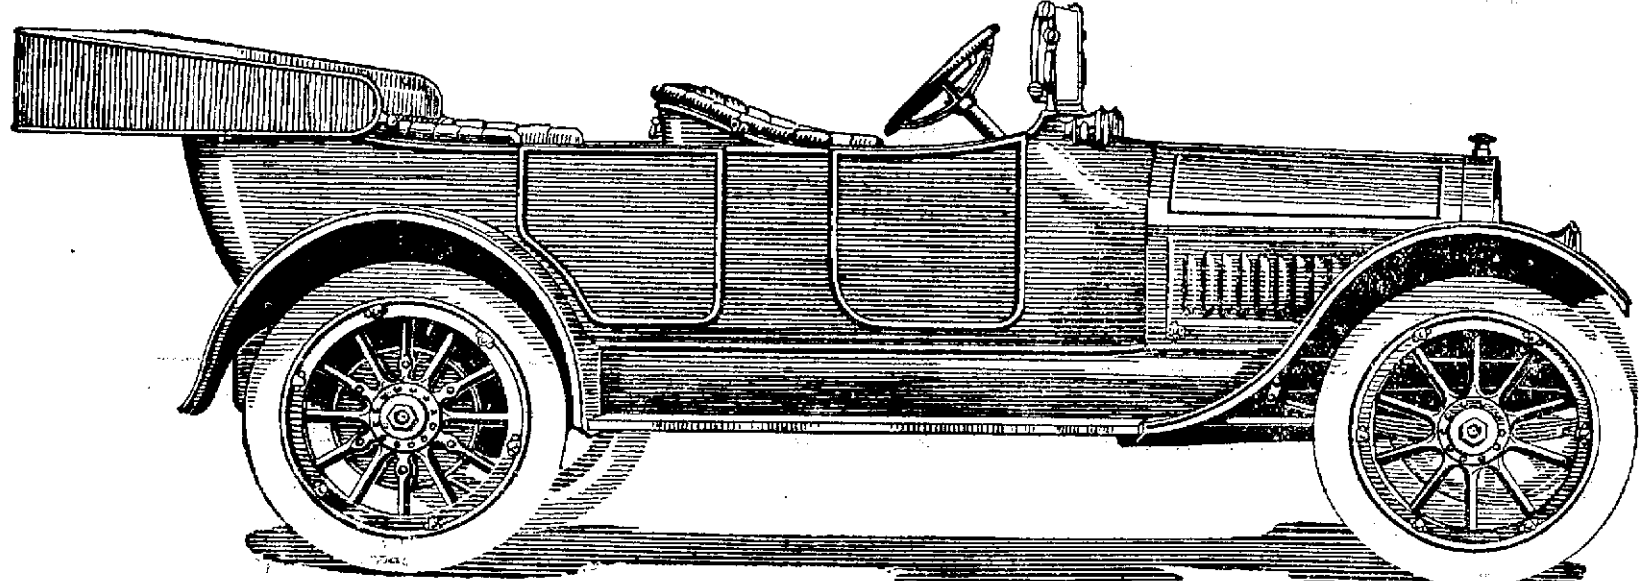

Mrs. Wilson Robinson, 744 Nessler St., Toledo, Ohio, writes:
"I feel like a new person. I have no more heavy feelings, no more pain, don't belch up gas, can eat most anything without it hurting me. I want to be working all the time. I have gained twenty-four pounds."

"People that see me now, Mrs. Wilson Robinson, and saw me two months ago seem astonished. I tell them Peruna did it. I will say it is the only remedy for spring and all other ailments." No argument is needed for Peruna. Just get a bottle and try it. If you have catarrh of the stomach you have a serious trouble. If you want to find a remedy it would be very easy to make the experiment. Before you likely find yourself better, then you will need no testimonials on the part of other people, or arguments to convince you. Until you try Peruna, however, all the testimonials in the world and arguments, however logical, will not move you. Just one trial of Peruna will convince you. Persons who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

MAY MOVE PAINE MILLS

TO NORTH OF STATE
Oshkosh, Wis., Sept. 13.—Charles Nevitt, treasurer of the Paine Lumber Company which is the largest sash and door factory in the world, today said that sooner or later a part of the Oshkosh plant must be placed in Langlade county. The removal of all of it is possible.

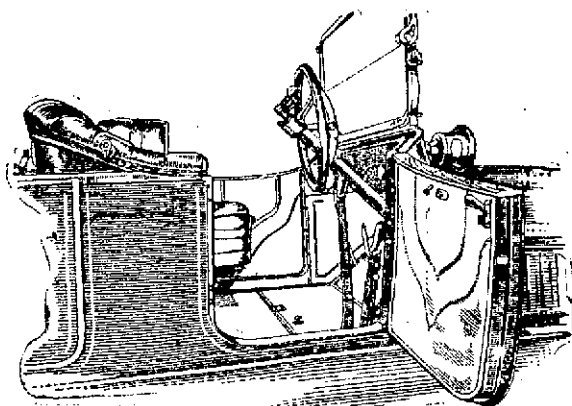

The Paine Lumber Company employs 3,000 men. The reason for removal is to get nearer the standing timber which is sawed in its mill and which is now being brought here by freight. Originally the logs came here by Fox and Wolf rivers.

Cadillac 1914--Three Notable Improvements

The motoring public has long looked to the Cadillac for the real developments in motor car efficiency—and never has it looked in vain. The 1914 Cadillac embodies three notable improvements not obtainable in any other car. A car without them is a year or more behind.

Right Side Drive—Entrance From Driving Side

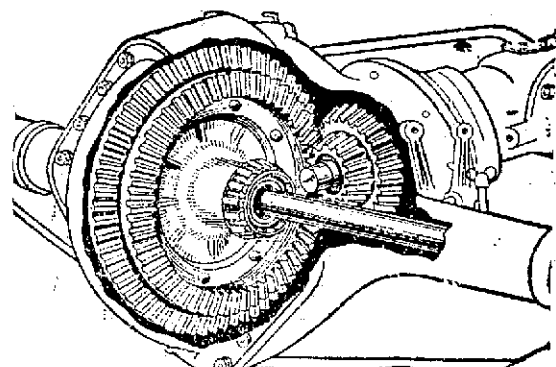

The steering wheel tilts and the driver's seat folds back—see illustration. As easy to enter from the driver's side as from the left. No more running around the car to gain a seat. It would have been easier to change to left side drive than to work out this improvement. But right side drive has been retained because that is the logical side from which to drive.

Electrically Heated, Hot Water Jacketed Carburetor

Cold weather brings no troubles if you drive a 1914 Cadillac. At 40 below zero and with the poorest gasoline, just press a button and the gasoline in the carburetor is heated and will vaporize instantly. This year the electric starter turns over the engine twice as fast as last year's starter—four times as fast as the original electric starter on the 1912 Cadillac. Also the carburetor is completely hot water jacketed, insuring highest efficiency at all times.

Two-Speed Direct-Drive Axle

On direct drive the ratio between engine speed and axle speed may be changed from 3.66 to 1, to 2.5 to 1, or vice-versa by just pressing a button. Consider what this means: At engine speed of 700 revolutions a minute, using low speed direct gear (3.66 to 1) the car travels 21 miles per hour. Press an electric button to change to high speed direct drive (2.5 to 1). The car immediately travels 30 miles per hour, with no increase in engine speed. Results—More miles per gallon of gasoline. Absolute freedom from vibration no matter what the speed. Longer life for the motor because of lower speed and less friction.

Other Details—Equipment

The 1914 Cadillac has a 50 horsepower motor with enclosed valve actions and silent chain drive to auxiliary shafts. Electric lights and engine starter. 36x4 1/2 inch tires on Q. D. demountable rims. Electric horn under hood. Power tire pump, and absolutely complete equipment in every detail.

PRICES—Seven-Passenger Touring Car, $2,075; Five-Passenger Touring Car, $1,975; Phaeton, four passenger, $1,975; Roadster, two-passenger, $1,975; Landaulet Coupe, three passenger, $2,500; Inside Drive Limousine, five-passenger, $2,800; Limousine, seven-passenger, $3,250.

Saving For The Home

The wage-earner, more than anyone else, should cultivate the savings habit and own a bank account. There is no telling when lack of work or sickness may cut off all your sources of income and place your family in hardened straits.

Hundreds of working people in Janesville own their own home through first starting a savings account in the First National and saving regularly.

A Colonial House—By John Henry Newson.

Home of Character No. 203

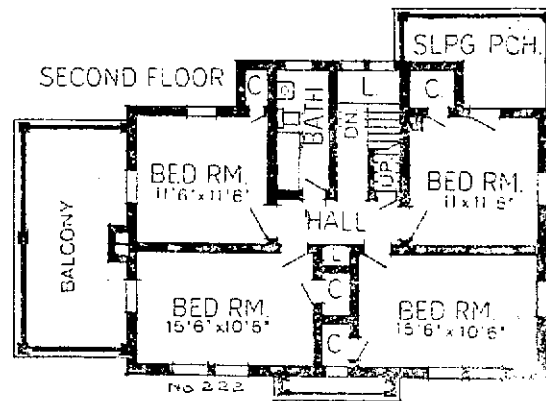

This design is of colonial type and makes a most attractive home. The exterior is carried out in wide siding and should preferably be all white with green shingle roof and red brick chimney.

The plan is of the usual center hall type and considerable saving is effected by the enclosed stairway, which permits a small den or library at the rear of the hall. The living room occupies one entire side of the house, is well lighted and with the porch at the side makes a most attractive room. The dining room and kitchen occupy the other side, and the kitchen contains ample space for complete kitchen equipment and cupboard. The second floor contains four large bedrooms and bath, with ample closets off of each room and a linen closet. Two additional rooms can be placed in the attic if desired. Basement under the entire house. This design 36x28 feet can be built under ordinary conditions for about $4000.

If you think of building, don't hesitate to consult Mr. John Henry Newson free.

By special arrangement Mr. Newson is ready to answer any inquiry from any reader of The Gazette concerning any design appearing on this page. Simply give the number of the design in writing and address your letter to "Homes of Character Department" The Gazette and Mr. Newson will personally answer your inquiries.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

"NOT THE QUARRY BUT THE CHASE,
Not the barrel but the rose,
Not the hazard but the play,
Help me—Lord—enjoy alway!"

"At last I am happy," I heard a woman say the other day, as she looked around her guest room which she had recently had papered. "I've got this room just as I want it. I've been working at it for years, and that room just as I want it. I've been working at it for years, and that room just as I want it. I've been working at it for years, and that room just as I want it."

Do you know what I think? I think that unless she finds something more to do to that room, she won't enjoy it half so much as she has in the past.

Most of us have a notion that we shall finally attain absolute happiness when we finish some piece of business, such as the furnishing of this room. Could anything be further from the truth? For there is happiness, as well as health, in growth and change. This is the normal and hence the happy condition. Nature abhors a standstill quite as much as a vacuum. As soon as growth ceases, decay commences. The fruit that has at last reached the goal of ripeness, towards which all the forces of nature have been bringing it, does not remain in this state of perfection; it soon commences to rot. The flower that has grown into full perfection at once feels its outer petals beginning to loosen.

And so, in human life we must always be moving on and on from one stage of development and from one goal to another; and the happiness that we fancy lies in the goal is really found in our eternal voyage towards it.

Among my friends is a young married woman who is considered very fortunate because she does not have to save and scrap and plan, in order to make her home beautiful, as the rest of us ordinary mortals must do. When she was married, her father gave her a beautiful home, and her mother presented her with all the furniture and appointments. Every room was completely furnished when she stepped into the house, a bride. Apparently there was nothing left to wish for. Recently, however, she has fallen under the spell of antique furniture, and has covered a desire for an old French bed-room set, which is so expensive that even her indulgent parents do not quite feel like rushing out and buying it for her. And so she and her husband are saving up for this indulgence. I met her the other day and she told me all about it with more animation than I have seen her show for years. "We go out and look at it every little while," she said, "it's such fun, it gives us something to look forward to, you know."

Something to look forward to—isn't that the secret of happiness from childhood to the end? Something to look forward to, something to work for, something to grow toward. And ever the will-o-the-wisp of happiness moves on and ever we follow, and know not that we find the only true happiness in the chase.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a boy of nineteen and am keeping company with a girl of seventeen. We are not engaged, but intend to be soon. We live three miles and a half apart. I have a rig of my own and live at home. How often should I go to see her? And should I stay there or go riding? I have received good advice before. I thank you for it.

Go to visit her as often as you can without harming your business. You will have to support a wife, you know, and you should be thinking about the way to do that. Sometimes it would be nice to take her riding with you, and sometimes it would be nice to just visit her in her home.

Are you not both rather young to marry now? A boy of nineteen is hardly fitted to have the responsibility of a wife.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Please advise me on the following:

(1)—I have brown hair and eyes, dark complexion and red cheeks. What color do you think I would look best in?

(2)—My hair is real oily; what can I do for it?

(3)—Does it mean anything if a young man chucks you under the chin? Should you resent it?

(4)—What is some nice inexpensive present to give a girl for her birthday?

(5)—I am thirteen years old and in the eighth grade; am I too old for it?

TWO READERS.

(1)—I should think that you would look well in red, brown or green.

(2)—Make a mixture of two ounces alcohol, two ounces witch hazel and fourteen grains resorcin. Rub a little of this well into the scalp every day.

(3)—He takes a liberty with you which you should not permit.

(4)—A handmade handkerchief, fancy garters, a belt or belt buckle, a little change purse.

(5)—No.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My face is getting chapped and rough looking, especially when I put powder on. Last winter my face looked bad.

(1)—Please give me a recipe for a good cold cream, something that's good for chapped faces and will make my face nice and smooth; something that won't cost over 50c.

(2)—Will you please tell me what causes a red nose? I don't wear corsets or tight belt or tight shoes; always low collar. My nose is most always red and it spoils my appearance just as soon as it gets a little cold.

(3)—My girl friend is a blonde, grayish blue eyes, face is kind of small and pug nose. She has a hump on her back, which spoils her looks. Would you think her pretty? I should think I would like her.

ALWAYS YOUR FRIEND,

(1)—Suppose you just take pure rendered lard for a cold cream. It will cleanse your face and leave it smooth. Pure rendered mutton tallow will do this also, or use it every night to clean and massage the face, neck and hands, then wipe off every bit of it. Before applying face powder, rub a very little of the lard or tallow thoroughly into the skin, then follow thoroughly with the powder, and your skin will not chap. Be sure not to wash your face immediately before going outdoors.

(2)—Sometimes indigestion causes a red nose, or eating too highly spiced or peppery foods. Nothing will prevent a nose getting red in cold weather, however.

(3)—Your friend might be quite unkind in spite of her deformity. I think I would love her all the more because of her misfortune.

cup, teaspoon, baking pan, paring knife.

Directions—Pare good baking apples and cut a slice from the top for a cover. Core, set in the buttered pan and fill with the raisins, chopped nuts, sugar and cinnamon. Replace covers, set the pan in hot water and cover with a butter made from four beaten eggs, one-half cup sugar and one cup of flour. Beat well and cover the apples and bake until the apples are done. Serve with cream.

Bleberry Pudding.

Material—Milk, one cup; flour, cup; milk, three-fourths cup; blueberries, two cups; eggs, two; sugar, three tablespoons; butter, two tablespoons; raisins, one cup; cinnamon, one-half teaspoon; salt, one-fourth teaspoon; nutmeg.

Utensils—Flour sifter, bowl, egg-beater, measuring cup and spoon, tablespoon.

Directions—Sift the flour, baking powder and salt into the bowl. Then add the two beaten yolks, sugar, creamed butter, and alternate with adding the flour and milk; add a little nutmeg, the whites of the eggs well beaten and the blueberries, with a very little of the given amount of flour shaken over them. Bake in gem pans twenty-five minutes and serve with a hard sauce and a few fresh berries.

Fresh Fruit Pudding.

Material—Milk, one cup; our, cup; butter, four tablespoons; sugar, three tablespoons; egg yolks, three; blueberries, one cup; double boiler.

Directions—Scald the milk with the butter in the double boiler, add the flour and stir until smooth, add the sugar and remove from the fire. Beat the yolks of eggs well and stir into the mixture. Butter the mold and sprinkle with granulated sugar. Pour in a little batter and then a layer of any fresh fruit, such as peaches, berries, bananas, etc. Then more batter and then fruit with the mixture on top. Set the mold in a pan of hot water and bake until firm. Serve with fruit or cherry sauce.

Fried Sabayon Sauce.

Material—Grated bread crumbs, two cups; sugar, one cup; milk, three cups; English currants, one-half cup; figs, one-half cup; cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful; salt, one-half teaspoonful; egg, three.

Utensils—Egg beater, bowl, measuring cup, spider, tablespoon, teaspoon, molds, double boiler.

Directions—Beat the eggs, put half the sugar into the spider and cook to caramel; dissolve in one-half cup of water and boil to thick syrup. Add the remaining sugar, half teaspoonful of salt, the same of cinnamon, milk and the beaten eggs. Pour all over the bread crumbs—generous measure—currants and figs cut in small pieces. Mix thoroughly and turn into buttered and sugared molds; set these into a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until the custard is set, turn from the molds and serve hot with the Sabayon sauce.

Sabayon Sauce.

Beat one whole egg and two egg yolks until well mixed. Gradually beat in a half cup of sugar. Turn into a double boiler and beat while adding a half cup of sherry or highly flavored fruit juices. Continue beating until it thickens slightly. Add a teaspoonful of lemon juice and turn in to a cold dish, to stop the cooking, as it curdles when cooked too long.

PROPER NEEDLES PLAY BIG PART IN HAND EMBROID.

Needles for Embroidery.

While some may use the ordinary sewing needle, the large majority of the best needle-workers prefer the long-eyed or "Crewel" needle, and this is the one recommended by nearly all of the societies of Decorative Art in this country. Nos. 8 and 10 are the proper sizes for one thread of Fila Silk, which is to be embroidered into linen, lawn, grass linen, or bolting cloth. For ready stamped linens use No. 8 or No. 9; for heavier linens use No. 8 and for butcher's linen or fabrics mounted over linen No. 7 will be required. No. 7 is the size for heavier work in two threads of Fila Silk. Persian Floss and Etching Silk require a No. 8 needle and for Roman Floss a No. 4 needle is needed. For Ropa Silk choose a No. 22 Chenille Needle.

Do not fail to secure one of the wonderful "Embroidery Outfits" now being distributed by this paper practically free. You will find the coupon printed in another column every day.

Bounty for Babies.

A bounty for marriages and children has been voted by the municipal council of Nantes, France. Hereafter, any city employee of Nantes in good standing will receive $20 down on marrying and $10 a month for each child until the latter is 14 years old. Should the father's own salary ever pass $600 yearly no further subsidy will be paid, as that sum is considered in France enough to support a family of eight.—New York Tribune.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Things Worth Knowing.

Benzola rubbed freshly on the edges of a carpet is a sure preventive of moths.

If your cupboard is damp, but a quantity of quicklime in it for a few days, as it absorbs the moisture entirely.

Egg stain may usually be removed from a silk gown by rubbing it with common table salt.

If a sprig of parsley is dipped in vinegar and eaten after an onion no unpleasant odor from the breath can be detected.

The Table.

Moonshiners' Cornmeal—Make a thick batter with yellow cornmeal and warm water. Salt to taste. Cover and let stand in a warm place out of a draught until it rises. Have milk in pans very hot, put them on the stove, drop a teaspoonful of butter in the bottom of each and when it bubbles fill the pans half full of batter. Bake in a moderate oven. They should rise to the top of the tin.

French Fried Apples—Peel and remove the cores from two pounds of cooking apples and cut them into small pieces. Put them into a stew pan with a small piece of stick cinnamon, two cups of water and the thinly pared rind of a large lemon. Moisten with a small quantity of water and stew gently until reduced to a pulp. When stewed sweeten the apples to taste with sugar and rub them through a fine sieve. Beat the yolks of three eggs and the whites of one with three ounces of warmed butter, a small quantity of grated nutmeg and grated lemon peel and the strained juice of half a lemon. Beat the mixture thoroughly. Butter and line the edges of a pie dish with puff paste, pour in the mixture and bake in a moderate oven. Serve as soon as possible after taking from the oven.

Brandy Snaps—Rub a quarter of a pound of butter into each pound of moist sugar, two ounces of sugar, a dessert-spoonful of allspice, the grated peel of half a lemon, the juice of a whole lemon and a half a pint of molasses. Spread this paste thinly over buttered baking sheets and bake lightly in a moderate oven. Cut into squares and serve.

Sunday Cakes—Mix a teaspoonful of baking soda with a pound of flour and rub it into a half pound of warm butter. Add one cup of sugar and well beaten eggs, half a pound of currants washed and dried, half a pound of sugar and a few caraway seeds. Mix all thoroughly and bake in a buttered tin.

Quail and Oyster Pie. Three young quails, 1 pint of oysters, butter, quart of white stock, rich pastry, salt and pepper.

Pluck, singe and draw the quails. Cut them into neat joints and sprinkle them with salt and pepper. Put them on to boil with the white stock and cook for about twenty minutes. Wash and drain the oysters. Line a deep baking dish with rich pastry and put in a layer of the oysters, then a layer of the quail and so on until all of the ingredients are used. Season the stock with one teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of pepper and pour in the dish. Cover with a top crust, dot with bits of butter and bake in a moderate oven for three quarters of an hour.

Value of Sympathy.

No man imparteth his joy to his friend but he joyeth the more, and no man imparteth his grief to his friend but he grieveth the less.—Lord Bacon.

Hot Dessert for Early Fall.

We have eaten cold desserts for so long this hot summer weather, when we have eaten them at all, that a hot dessert, if it is not too heavy, is usually a welcome change when the first cool days come.

We are not the meat-eating nation—quite that we have been in the past, so we can stand more often a heavier dessert. For instance, where much meat is used at the dinner, do not have a dessert with abundance of eggs. It is a repetition of the same food values, especially where the whites are used. Neither should one end a very simple dinner with a very elaborate dessert.

We have had several months of fresh fruits so now we can, for a change on cool days, use these fruits in some other desserts.

SHOPIERE

Shopiere, Sept. 12.—On September 12th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Shineall near Shopiere, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Florence to Louis A. Cox of Beloit.

The ceremony took place at 4 o'clock and was performed on the beautifully decorated porch by Rev. James G. Girdley, pastor of the church.

Miss Florence Cox, sister of the groom, played Mendelssohn's wedding march and very beautifully. "Oh, how lovely!" was the beautiful day made the outdoor wedding a delightful affair.

The three course wedding supper was served on the lawn. The gifts to the popular bride were numerous and very beautiful and the hosts of friends of the couple are glad to hear that they are to live near Shopiere.

After a brief wedding trip to Milwaukee they will be at home to their friends on the old Shimeall homestead.

"CASCARETS" RELIEVE SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Move acids, gases and clogged-up waste from Stomach, Liver, Bowels—Cure Indigestion.

Get a 10-cent box now.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets. They immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning.

A 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

SMILE AS DRESS IS BARRED FROM MAILED

Court Holds Postmaster General is Art Critic Supreme—Bar Work of Famed Artists.

Not only has the much abused September 10th been refused passage through the United States mails but since Judge Sanborn of the United States district court gave his decision that the postmaster general was "art critic" supreme of the postoffice and that the courts cannot interfere with his ruling, other mailed art pictures wherein the object of the picture wears only a smile or a string of beads, will find the strong arm of the government officials against their traveling through Uncle Sam's mails.

Pastmaster General Burleson holds that art is personified by painting of beautiful women who hide their charms only by a smile or a string of beads may not be obscene, but have no right in the mail. The trouble arose over a suit of a Chicago art company for a writ of temporary injunction on account of having been refused to allow the sending of copies of various noted paintings through the mail. Many works of famed masters such as Lefevre, Boudin and Bouguereau which have been mailed in all three hundred and fifty copies are held unmailable. The dealer in the case sold promiscuously throughout the country postal cards of nude women and they went at the small price of one dollar, so cheaply that the average art student could not afford to do without them. As a result of the small price they fell into the wrong hands including children and youths, who were unappreciative of art's beauties and many complaints were made to the postoffice authorities.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES.

The training school students plan a social breakfast for Tuesday morning.

Principal Lowth inspected several rural schools on Monday, and on Thursday attended the state fair at Milwaukee.

Miss Jacobson inspected the schools taught by Helen Gray and Florence Bradford on Friday afternoon.

Miss Evelyn Gower and Miss Arleen Hupel visited the training school this week.

There is a good deal of comfortable self-satisfaction and a good deal of teacher indifference which is really a crime against the children. Children often ask for bread and get stones, and it is a shame to the careless teacher.

Several ladies are asking for training school girls to work for their board and we wish we had the girls to fill these places satisfactorily, but we haven't. More may enter the school later on.

Several county teachers are writing to the training school for advice on various matters and the school is more than pleased to respond to such inquiries. That is part of the work of the school. Teachers, write in and you will get prompt replies. Visit the school occasionally.

The following students took part in the literary program Wednesday afternoon: Nellie Hendrickson, Arice Smith, Olive Hupel, Ruth Trambille, Virginia McCown, Hazel Logan, Marion Williams, Pearl Trambille, Mary Madden and Zetta Kealey.

The following bulletins written and published by Prof. William A. McKeever of Manhattan, Kansas, are very helpful to a teacher: "Teaching the Boy to Save," "Teaching the Young in Regard to Sex," "Teaching the Girl to Help in the Home," "Teaching the Girl to Save," "Training the Boy to Work." These bulletins cost two cents apiece.

The school has purchased several new books this fall on rural life and the rural problem, especially the problem of the rural school.

The school makes several professional journals: Dr. Winship's Journal of Education, The Western Teacher, Primary Education, Popular Education, The School Century, Progressive Teachers, take and read good teachers' magazines.

During the last year the state department has condemned more than two hundred district school houses.

The model of the rural school building has been returned to Washington. How many rural school boards and rural teachers got any benefit out of it? If not, why not?

Teachers would be interested in a book on Weights and Measures in Wisconsin, put out by the state inspector.

Marie Dobson assisted in the county superintendent's office on Friday.

Frances Crall has been obliged to be out of school on account of illness.

The State School Journal: "The future is to see a quiet strike between the county training school and the normal training courses in the high schools. Will it be a survival of the fittest, and which will survive the fittest? The voice of McKenny struggle has ended in a victory for the former. After all, may there not be a place for both in the state's educational system?" The writer thinks there is a place for all the agencies now preparing rural teachers.

Country boards—have you furnished teachers with the necessary material for work this fall? Good erasers, brown dust-pans, and dust-copies, and other things? Teachers, do you ask for what you need. The way some teachers put up with old dilapidated books, for example, is not recommended by the teacher. What would you think of a housekeeper that used habitually broken dishes, kettles with handles off, and the like? There is no good excuse for poor tools. A good workman has good tools.

Municipal Affairs Of Vital Interest

LA CROSSE MAY PROVIDE WORK FOR ITS PRISONERS

La Crosse, Wis.—Tramps who are unfortunate enough to fall into the hands of the La Crosse police are to be placed at work on the streets of the city, if a recommendation of the committee on police and finance is adopted by the common council at its next meeting, says the La Crosse Leader Press.

The resolution providing for the creation of a stationing was tabled, principally because of the expense of erecting a "bull-pen" and maintaining a guard at all times within the enclosure, and for the further reason that there is no profit to the city in hauling quarry rock to an installation of this kind, having it pounded up into small pieces by hand and then having it hauled to the consumer, in contrast with the power driven stone crushers operated by companies doing business on the bluffs.

The suggestion that tramps be employed in gangs on the residence streets to clean out gutters and curbs which now make some of the thoroughfares unsightly, was given enthusiastic endorsement by the joint committee. The recommendation to the council will carry the suggestion that the tramps be placed in the custody of a police officer or a street foreman.

That tramps will be as scarce to La Crosse as icebergs in flytime, within three or four months after the new regulation is placed in effect is the conclusion of the aldermen.

ASPHALT PLANT SAVING MONEY FOR MINNEAPOLIS

(Minneapolis News.)

The portable asphalt plant is saving money for Minneapolis.

With a crew of 50 men, the big flat car was rolled to University avenue between First and Third streets, s. e., and today is spreading asphalt surfacing on the time-worn brick paving, filling holes. The cost of resurfacing is approximately 12 cents a square yard. The cost of new paving is estimated at $2.50 a square yard.

City Engineer Capellan believes that the use of the portable plant will save the city thousands of dollars a year in resurfacing old paving, instead of laying new.

According to George Hagenberg, assistant in the city engineer's office, the asphalt resurfacing is almost as satisfactory as new paving. It lasts about 10 years.

Resurfacing put on Nicollet avenue from Tenth street to Grant a year ago is hardly scratched.

CITY FILTRATION PLANT REDUCES TYPHOID RATE

(Minneapolis News.)

The filtration plant silenced all detractors today when figures on typhoid fever for the first eight months of 1913 were given out.

Last year, from January to September, there were 35 cases of typhoid in Minneapolis. This was before the plant was in operation.

This year there have been but 47, and 23 of the afflicted persons are their drinking water from wells and pipe used spring water, leaving only 24 which can in any way be charged to city water.

TRACKLESS TROLLEY SYSTEM FOR TENNESSEE COUNTY

Tristram, Tenn.—It is probable that Sullivan county will be one of the first counties in Tennessee to have trackless trolley cars. H. C. Roseman, chief engineer of the Henry L. Doherty Company, New York, is inquiring into the situation with a view to introducing the system in Sullivan county. It is believed that with this county's turnpikes, which have been constructed in the last few years, the trackless trolley cars can be operated profitably, and in the event Mr. Roseman's project is satisfactory to the capitalists whom he represents, the system will be tried in this county.

LARGEST SEWAGE DISPOSAL PLAN IS AT ATLANTA

Atlanta, Ga.—With the completion of the new disposal plants at Inman creek, this city will have the largest sewage purification system of any city in the world. That is, it will have the largest system using inclined tanks and the filter beds, provided by the Georgia Power company's factory system. At Inman creek the first plant completed, there are 12 inclined tanks with a capacity of 3,000,000 gallons a day. The cost of the plant was $108,000. The Peachtree plant, which will cost about $195,000, will have 30 tanks, with a capacity of 9,000,000 gallons and a pipe capacity of 30,000,000 gallons. The entire plant, which will cost about $1,121,000 will have twenty tanks, with a capacity of 3,000,000 gallons per day, and a pipe capacity of 30,000,000 gallons. The Atlanta system, therefore, will have 62 inclined tanks, a capacity of filtering beds and a capacity of 30,000,000 gallons per day.

GERMAN CITY BUILDING A MUNICIPAL HOTEL

Berlin—Work was begun on Sunday in the city of Duisburg on the Rhine, on what will be the first municipally owned hotel in the German empire. There has been need of a first class hotel here for some time, but no one cared to build it owing to unfavorable financial conditions. The city council therefore decided last week to build it and run it. The plan will be closely watched by other cities.
